DAM BREAKS, HOMES ARE WIPED OUT

Freshet on Eel and Elk Rivers Creates Havoc; Families Forced to Flee for Safety, But No Lives Reported Lost

Highways and Railroads Are Under Six Feet of Water; Eastern States in Grip of Storm; Rainfall Here 55

EUREKA, Feb. 21.—Heavy property damage has been done and a number of families have been driven from their homes by a freshet on the Eel and Elk rivers beginning Sunday. Late yesterday a dam at the mill of the Elk River Mill and Lumber company on Elk river burst, releasing a half million feet of redwood logs which crashed down the stream tearing out bridges and uprooting trees along the bank.

The road and railroad along the river was under six feet of water during the night. Transportation today was by means of rowboats only.

Several families were forced to desert their homes and seek safety on the highlands. No lives were lost.

The Eel river was rising rapidly early today and was threatening to overflow its banks.

BLIZZARD FOLLOWED BY SNOWSTORM

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Although the blizzard which Saturday night and yesterday swept the eastern states from Western Tennessee to New England had passed out to sea in a northeasterly direction, the big area it visited still was in the grip of the ice and snow it left behind. In many places, particularly around New York where the storm was at its worst, the inhabitants had literally to dig themselves out and first reports of blocked rail traffic and demoralized wire service were shown not to be exaggerated.

Many outlying districts had not been heard from today and the list of those who lost their lives owing to the storm remained at nine. All of these were reported in New York. No serious marine disasters had been reported despite the gale that swept the coast at a velocity of 58 miles an hour.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—New York's millions of workers faced with limited transportation facilities as a result of the 14½ inch snowfall yesterday experienced difficulty and suffering in getting to work today. Service from outlying districts was hampered by snow drifts two to ten feet in depth. Thousands of men were at work in an effort to clear a way for traffic.

NINE LIVES ARE LOST IN NEW YORK

The storm also caused difficulties to shipping. Three vessels outward bound were reported in trouble today. The Cold Harbor, 1500 tons, was washed ashore off Coney Island. The Lycoming of the United States shipping board reports two propellor blades lost while the Aowa reported by wireless that she is waterlogged and out of control off Fenwick Island lightship.

WORST STORM IN TWENTY-TWO YEARS

BOSTON, Feb. 21.—New England's worst blizzard in 22 years had swept out to sea today, leaving in its wake a toll of several score of craft piled up on the coast, railroad traffic demoralized and a mass of tangled telegraph wires and snow clogged roads.

STORM PREDICTED FOR SOUTH TONIGHT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Another snow storm over the greater portion of the territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Tennessee North Carolina line is probable tonight or Tuesday, the weather bureau's forecast today said.

Generally fair weather prevailed in the east today after the storm of yesterday.

At Boston there was 10 inches of snow. Temperatures throughout this territory were low today but the bureau said they would rise slowly except in the Florida peninsula.

OAKLAND RAINFALL OVER HALF AN INCH

With the exception of four other points rainfall in Oakland during the past 24 hours was heavier than in any other section of the state and was recorded early today by officials of the weather bureau as .55 inch. The heaviest rainfall occurred at [illegible] was recorded at [illegible] inches. Marshfield came next with 1.40 inches, Rosebery with .86 and Mt. Tamalpais with .77 inch.

The rainfall to date this season in Oakland and vicinity tops the precipitation of last year by 13.75 inches, it was announced today. The total rainfall of this season was given out as 20.32 inches while that for last year was 6.47. The normal rainfall for the season is 16.95.

Tonight cloudy, Tuesday fair, moderate northwesterly winds was the weather forecast given out this morning.

The following inches of rainfall during the past 24 hours were announced by the weather bureau:

Baker .54, Boise .16, Eureka .3, Fresno .01, Helena .04, Marshfield 1.40, Merced .48, Mt. Hiram Johnson Will Lead N. Y. Traction Fight

Senator Engaged by City to Oppose State Program for Solving Transit Problem

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Corporation Counsel O'Brien announced today that with approval of Mayor Hylan he had engaged Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California to fight traction bills now before the legislature.

Senator Johnson, O'Brien announced, will lead the fight of the city administration against the plan of Governor Miller for solving New York's transit problem.

The plan now before the legislature provides for appointment of a state commission to control all transit companies operating in this city. Hearings are expected to be begun soon in Albany with the city administration opposing the measure on the ground it violated the principle of home rule and will mean a high fare.

Republican leaders here expressed surprise when they learned that the California senator had accepted the post of special counsel. They pointed out that Senator Johnson himself a Republican would be obliged to oppose the Republican state machine headed by Governor Miller. In a telegram to O'Brien accepting the appointment Senator Johnson congratulated Mayor Hylan and other Democratic city officials for the "valiant fight you are making."

"I am very glad to undertake the employment as special counsel," the message said, "in the endeavor to protect and preserve the city's rights from the assault now being made upon them.

"I recognize the orders in the contest and the tremendous opposition and difficult obstacles which must be encountered, but it is the old, old fight with special privilege and exploiting corporate greed on the one side and the simple justice and inherent rights of the mass of people on the other.

"You are fighting the good fight and I am delighted to be a part of it with you."

Congressman Says Baruch Got Millions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—In an address today in the House, Representative Mason, Republican, Ill., reiterated his charge that B. M. Baruch of New York had made more than $5,000,000 in copper alone while chairman of the War Industries Board.

"There was a corrupt conspiracy and Barney Baruch was head of it," shouted Mason. "He had the power of the government and turned it to the use of men who were robbing the government."

Representative Wingo, Democrat, Arkansas, asked Mason whether he had attempted to have Baruch prosecuted.

"I'll try to have him indicted after March 4," Mason replied.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 21.—Definite announcement that Harry M. Daugherty of Ohio had been chosen for the attorney generalship under the coming administration was made here today by President-elect Harding.

Henry P. Fletcher, former American ambassador to Mexico, is to be under secretary of state in the Harding administration.

Besides Daugherty the President-elect today conferred with Averill Harriman of the Harriman shipping interests.

The President-elect said he regarded the suggestion to abolish the Shipping Board and create a new executive department to deal with shipping problems as "worth thinking about."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—President-elect Harding has approved a program of tariff and tax legislation for the extra session of Congress comprising two tariff bills, a temporary and a permanent measure, with tax legislation sandwiched in between, Chairman Fordney of the House ways and means committee announced today on his return trip from a conference with Harding at St. Augustine.

FORDNEY WILL BE AIDE IN CABINET

Fordney said the committee would turn its attention to the new program as soon as the pending emergency tariff measure gets out of the way. There was said to be some sentiment among committee members for re-enactment of the Payne-Aldrich law as a stop gap measure, that being the shortest possible way such a proposition could be handled in Congress.

HARDING'S HEALTH GOOD, SAYS DOCTOR

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 21.—Weeks of outdoor life under the semi-tropical sun of the south have put President-elect Harding in just perfect physical condition and he will enter upon his presidential duties ten days hence with a physique far stronger than that enjoyed by many of his predecessors.

Dr. C. E. Sawyer, the Harding family physician, who has been almost in constant attendance on the President-elect since the nomination at Chicago, said today he had just completed a thorough examination of Harding and found him to be in the best all round physical condition of his career. So far as his health is concerned Harding can view with equanimity the rigors of White House life, [illegible] Dr. Sawyer.

LOWDEN'S REFUSAL CAUSES FLURRY

Little if any progress was made by Harding over the week end in filling the three places in his cabinet that admittedly are still vacant. The President-elect's advisors today say that he is frankly in a quandary over the navy portfolio in particular. He has counted so strongly on this berth being filled by former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois that he [illegible] not [illegible] considered for any office [illegible] left the whole situation up in the air. A number of names are under consideration, John Hays Hammond, [illegible] being foremost—but nothing approaching a decision yet has been reached. The same is true in some what less degree in the labor and commerce positions. Herbert Hoover's status has not been determined definitely though it is considered not unlikely that he will enter the cabinet through the commerce department.

The opinion was expressed today that Harding might solve the labor controversy by going outside the [illegible] his labor minister.

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—The death list in the battle between English soldiers and Irish Republicans near Middleton in County Cork was brought to fifteen today when two wounded civilians died. A detachment from the Hampshire regiment came upon a band of Sinn Feiners who were preparing an ambuscade. The soldiers opened fire and the Republicans retired shooting as they went.

According to information given out here six spies were executed over the week end.

Two Sinn Feiners were mortally wounded when a detachment of ten British soldiers was ambushed near Kilkenny. An unarmed civilian was seriously wounded.

The spies were Irish who had been seized and shot to death by Republicans on suspicion that they had revealed inner workings of the Republican government and the Republican army.

Crown forces invested and searched the Jesuit college at Milltown which was being used as great headquarters for the Irish Republican army. The college was beleaguered last year by crown forces and held out four days.

A laborer was shot dead near Cashel. Another laborer was shot and seriously wounded at Mullagh, Meath, last night.

Twenty armed men yesterday held up a train at Clara, Kings county, and took away the kits of the officers.

A freight train was held up in Cavan and the contents of the car scattered about.

FOURTEEN MANCHESTER FARMS ARE BURNED

MANCHESTER, Eng., Feb. 21.—Fourteen farm fires occurred near here Saturday night. Damage to machinery, buildings and stacks amounted to £40,000.

Places visited by the incendiaries included Altrincham, Dunham, Rumston, Charlton, Fagueley, Whitefield and the country around Southport. In one case a farmer and his two sons were ordered by a man to put up their hands. When they refused the man fired. They dashed for bom[illegible] and five more shot were fired but without doing any harm.

80 INTERNED AS POLITICAL PRISONERS

CORK, Feb. 21.—Nine members of the Cork Corporation and other leading men of South Ireland were among the eighty persons sent to the Spike Island internment camp Saturday as political prisoners.

BELFAST, Feb. 21.—Armed men last night killed William O'Connell, a Protestant farmer, at his home at [illegible] in the presence of his wife. O'Connell is reported to have informed the authorities concerning activities of collectors of the Irish Republican army fund.

Matthew Sweetnam, another farmer, was killed at [illegible].

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—According to a report issued tonight by Dublin Castle, search yesterday in a room here disclosed evidence that they had been used as headquarters for the Irish Republican army. Important documents were seized.

POLICE MACHINE IS ATTACKED BY BOMBERS

According to the Castle reports an automobile with an officer and three auxiliary police were attacked yesterday while halting outside [illegible] church. A bomb was thrown and revolver shots were fired at the machine from all sides. The occupants returned the fire and then gave chase.

One of the attacking party was seen to have been wounded but all escaped. None of the auxiliaries was hurt.

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—Ordered to halt at Blackwater, county Clare, several youths refused to do so. The soldiers fired a volley and two brothers were shot.

DUBLIN, Feb. 21.—Sinn Fein headquarters state that a major captain and subaltern auxiliary officers have been arrested, charged with the murder of Kennedy and [illegible] about three weeks ago after being liberated from arrest at Dublin Castle fifteen minutes before the curfew hour and told to go home.

Agree to Accept Notes of the Defeated Nation in Lieu of Belgium's War Debt; U. S. Asked to Sanction the Plan

France and England's Future Relations Depend On the London Conference; Council Is in Session at Paris

Washington, Feb. 21.—Congress will be asked to pass legislation permitting the Treasury Department to accept German bonds in lieu of payment of the loans extended to Belgium by the United States prior to the armistice, Under Secretary of State Davis stated this afternoon.

"The United States, Great Britain and France have all agreed to propose to their legislative bodies that German bonds be accepted in lieu of Belgium's war debt," Secretary Davis said.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The United States, British and French governments have agreed to accept German bonds in lieu of Belgium's war debt, it was announced in the House of Commons this afternoon by Austin Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer.

By ED L. KEEN
United Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—As allied statesmen gathered here today there was a prospect:

That Germany's bill will be redrafted.

That the French cabinet may be overturned if that bill is lightened.

That the future relations between France and Great Britain will be finally determined.

That Turkey and Greece may adjust their territorial claims and proclaim peace.

Statesmen brand as impossible chances of a split between France and Great Britain, but they admitted they saw no chance of reconciling the views of Premiers Briand and Lloyd George in regard to Germany.

BRIAND WARNED CABINET MAY BE OVERTURNED

Briand has been warned that his cabinet will be overturned if he consents to cut the bill of $55,000,000,000 presented to Germany. His desire is to see Germany compelled to pay in full. Lloyd George has declared that a bankrupt Germany means a bankrupt Europe and is willing to consider the just demands of that country.

Briand undoubtedly will be succeeded by former Premier Poincare if he fails to win his point at the London conference. Poincare is firm for making Germany pay in full and is back of Marshal Foch's plans for further military occupation of that country. French troops are ready to take the field and Foch's plans are laid for a movement which will split German territory, probably severing Bavaria from the rest of the country.

Turks and Turkish nationalists are before the conference agreeing in the main in their demands for the restoration of territory awarded Greece in the Sevres treaty. Greece has representatives here to combat the plan.

FRENCH INSIST ON PAYMENT

PARIS, Feb. 21.—The French delegation to the London conference will stick by the Paris decision that Germany must pay $56,000,000,000 war indemnity, it was learned in authoritative circles today. The French will consent to study the German counter proposals but will refuse to change the amount or modify the payments, it was declared.

CONGRESS ENTERS HOME STRETCH IN RACE WITH TIME

Pile of Legislative Matter Foretells Doom of Many Measures.

By DAVID M CHURCH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON Feb 21—Congress turned into the home stretch today in a neck and neck race against time With but ten legislative days remaining before the present session ends there was every indication today that some of the important legislation now on the books will never reach completion

In the Senate the big task is the passage of appropriation bills which already have been passed by the House There are rumblings which forebode ill for some of these appropriation bills particularly the naval appropriation bill Senator Borah of Idaho has announced his intention to continue the fight to force a conference on disarmament and has given notice that he will discuss the naval appropriation bill at length This may lead to a Senate row which will endanger the passage of the bill at this session

The army appropriation bill providing for reduced military forces will also be the subject of considerable debate and will retard any rapid progress by the upper body in disposing of the jam of legislation now steadily mounting

Senator Penrose chairman of the Senate finance committee intends to have the soldier bonus bill reported to the Senate this week and hopes to get action on it before the close of the session but inasmuch as this bill has been the subject of many frays there is little hope of its rapid passage and if it finally comes to a vote it is not likely to get out of conference during the present session

RIPE OLIVE DAY IS BOOSTED WITH FREE SAMPLES

Tourists Are Especial Targets of Pretty Girls in Stores, Hotels

It's ripe olive day.

It's the day California has set apart by gubernatorial [illegible] thereof [illegible] proclamation to help put the [illegible] [illegible] where it belongs.

It is therefore requested that you think ripe olives [illegible] ripe olives and that you eat ripe olives.

As for the olive folk themselves, they have been on the job for a long time and are [illegible] redoubling their efforts.

OLIVES BLAMED

The center of attack is the tourist from the east whose fear of ripe olives has been engendered by unfortunate and erroneous publicity given to reports of botulism poisoning. Other foods usually contained the poison—any food might, but olives get the blame.

The effort now is to convince the country of its error and return one of the most nutritive of California products to its proper place in the sun. And it is an effort that is going ahead rapidly.

Today airplanes circled the bay region at noon. They dropped bundles of tickets. For every ticket a quart of ripe olives awaited at the office of the California Development Board in the Ferry building.

TOURISTS WAYLAID

Then in San Francisco hotels pretty girls from Oroville waylaid the tourists, the visitor, the eastern sojourner and handed them olives, luscious big ripe olives that melted in the mouth. Misses Dorothy Norris and Grace McGee were two of them. They are University of California girls. Major and Mrs E. W. Ehmann of olive fame chaperoned four others, two of them granddaughters of Mrs Freda Ehmann, widely known as the Olive Queen.

Robbery Charge Is Found Baseless

A report made yesterday by Manuel Govaris of [illegible] Seventh street that he had been held up by two armed men in a saloon at Seventh and Franklin streets on Saturday night and robbed of $40 was found to be without foundation following an investigation conducted today.

Acting Captain of Inspectors Timothy Flynn, Inspector R. V. McSorley learned that Govaris, partially under the influence of liquor, was in the saloon when it was entered by Inspector Kyle's bootleg squad.

Govaris had a $ 0 bill on the bar when the policemen entered and during the raid it was picked up by the bartender when Govaris interferred with the officers and was pushed aside. Shoved out of the way, Govaris stumbled and fell. He picked himself up and went to the police station to report the affair. Yesterday the bartender returned the money.

Bay City Man Succeeds in Importing Baby Elephant Here

MRS F. H. BUCK, the modern Mrs. Noah, who brought back with her from India the smallest baby elephant to ever cross the Pacific and the largest orang-outang together with a varied assortment of birds, snakes and tigers for American zoos

Steamer from India Has Small Menagerie as Part of Her Miscellaneous Cargo

Following several months spent in capturing wild animals in the jungles of India, F. H. Buck of the bay cities has arrived in San Francisco with a group of animals ranging from a baby elephant to a 20 foot python. Buck arrived from Calcutta accompanied by his wife with the animals for American zoos. The collection includes the smallest baby elephant that ever crossed the Pacific and the largest orang outang together with a varied assortment of birds, snakes and tigers.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck arrived on the steamer Santa Cruz. The large snakes were captured for the zoological gardens on the Pacific coast and in the east. During the last half of the return voyage the mate and young of the large orang outang died and the animal was in mourning during the remainder of the trip, averting its head when passengers sympathetically came to pay their respects. When he was unloaded in his cage the orang outang constantly kept his eyes covered with his hairy paws.

Throughout the trip the animals were constantly a source of amusement for the passengers. The baby elephant, named Pauline Frederick, is three and one half feet high and tips the scales at 400 pounds. Many of the animals were seasick during the voyage, according to Buck.

Ramirez also stated that a baby's savings bank with $60 in it was taken by the burglar.

Kisses Were Spurned, Wife Wants Divorce

Refusals of James A. Eustis to permit his wife to kiss him and his insistence that they lead a platonic love existence caused Mrs. Julia A. Eustis of Oakland to file suit for divorce, she alleges in her complaint.

Mrs. Eustis charges that her husband tried a silence cure on her, refusing to speak to her or 8-year-old James Jr. for days at time.

"He wouldn't let me kiss him," declares the wife. "He spurned my caresses and said that we were becoming weaned apart more every day. He was willing to occupy the same house with me, but would not treat me as his wife."

They were married October 18, 1911, and separated December 18, 1920, after nine years of wedded life.

Viola C. Dulfer in her suit for divorce against Fred W. Dulfer charges that her husband caused her great bodily injury and mental anguish by his cruelty. She asks the custody of Grace, aged 7, and Fred Jr., aged 4, and $150 a month alimony. The couple were married October 11, 1910, and separated November 15, 1920.

Susie M. Martell alleges that Lewis Martell had another wife living at the time he married her here March 17, 1917, and she asks for an annulment.

EX-GOVERNORS TO DEBATE STATE TAX HERE TONIGHT

Pardee and Gillett to Speak For and Against King Law in Auditorium

Two former governors of California will meet on the platform at the auditorium theater this evening to argue for and against the King tax bill. They are George C. Pardee of Oakland, who will speak for the measure, and James N. Gillett of San Francisco, who will represent the opposition. With Pardee will appear C. C. Young, lieutenant governor.

The meeting, so far as Oakland is concerned, will be the closing one of a four weeks campaign. It was arranged by the city interests committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and it is expected that hundreds of persons will attend.

Seldom has so much spirit been shown in any state issue. At the outset of the campaign to take the issue to the people the administration speakers have charged that those who oppose the bill are working with the corporations and that the question was whether the corporations should pay their just share of the increase in taxation or if the people should pay it.

WANT BUDGET FIRST

The opponents of the bill have held that whoever pays the increase it will fall on the people and that before such a large increase is levied there should be some action toward affecting economy in state expenditures. They point out that money may be saved in the salary roll and by reorganizing departments and that the budget has not been presented to the legislature for revision. Until this last is done they hold no tax rate should be fixed.

Wiggington E. Creed of Oakland, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, issued a statement today in reply to one given out a few days ago by H. Stanley Benedict of the State Board of Control. Benedict has taken the P. G. & E. Company as an example to show that the corporations were earning more money than ever and that the taxes should be raised.

"In selecting a single company, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company," says Creed, "and presenting its earnings for four years as a refutation of the advertisement signed by all of the corporations, Mr. Benedict begs the question and shows not only an utter lack of knowledge of the facts but an unrestrained willingness to make charges without the knowledge to support or justify them. Mr. Benedict utters the slander that misrepresentations have been made and figures juggled without having any knowledge of the facts of their application."

WORK REVIEWED

After reviewing some of the development work his company has done and concerning which Benedict has known nothing, Creed says:

"Perhaps the most delightful example of Mr. Benedict's irresponsibility to be found in his whole statement is his comment that space does not permit analysis of all the corporations, but it is probably quite fair to assume a similar increase in the earnings of the others listed in the advertisement. Obviously he does not know the conditions described in the advertisement are nation wide, that they have been frankly admitted by tax commissions and regulating bodies in other states."

Benedict has a new statement today in which he replies to a speech made by Paul Shoup, vice president of the Southern Pacific Company, and in which he attacks Shoup's statement that salary increases are contemplated by the state administration to amount to 13 per cent. After expressing confidence that Shoup would not intentionally make a misstatement, Benedict says:

"I cannot say as much, however, for those manipulators of figures who are undoubtedly supplying Mr. Shoup with the figures for his speeches and who are hired by the corporations that are fighting the tax and are operating under the title 'Taxpayers Investigation and Economy League.'

INCREASE DENIED

"The salary roll of the State has not been increased $2,000,000 in the proposed budget for 1921-2. In fact, the entire net increase in the general operating expenses of the State has not been increased in the 1921 budget by $2,000,000 over the 1919 budget.

"The total salary increases are barely 4 per cent of the whole total State payroll. Not a single major salary has been increased. The increases allowed are upon minor salaries and as a matter of fact are the increases made in 1919 and 1920 after the 1919 session of the legislature had adjourned."

NEIGHBORS SAY SPARE TREE, BUT WOMAN WON'T

Believing she was facing an impossible task, an excited woman appealed today to Henry Vogt, secretary of the park board, for some pointers on how to cut a tree three ways.

The tree, she said, was partly on her property, partly on a neighbor's and partly under the jurisdiction of the city. The roots, she said, were spreading and she wanted the tree cut down, but the neighbor objected.

"You can cut your own side of the tree," he is alleged to have said, "but you'll leave my side alone."

As the tree is a locust, whose wood is especially tough, the woman gave up the idea of sawing it downward, especially as the city has an equity in it.

"You may cut our side of the tree down also," said Vogt, when the matter was explained at length. "You have our permission."

Thus given a two-thirds majority, the woman announced that action will be started on that tree immediately.

Besides Brother Gregory, she is survived by Brother Vellesian, superintendent of St. Vincent's orphanage, San Rafael; Rev. Edwin T. Mallon of the Paulist Fathers and Aloysius J. Mallon, a mining engineer. The Mallon family was a pioneer one in the bay cities.

ENGLAND SECURES SYRIAN MANDATE BY SECRET MOVE

Franco-British Pact Completes Coveted Rail Routes, League Is Ignored

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—(By The Associated Press)—The text of the Franco-British convention by which the Syrian desert is transferred from French to a British mandate was received today in official circles and is expected to engage the close attention of State Department officials in connection with the study of the allied mandates in which the American Government has been concerned.

The pact, as concluded between the French and British governments December 23, contains provisions for the settlement of the problem raised by the attribution to Great Britain of the mandates for Palestine and Mesopotamia and by the attribution to France of the mandate over Syria and the Lebanon, all three conferred by the supreme council of San Remo.

The two phases of the treaty which have engaged attention of the American officials are:

Establishment for the first time of the precedent of a transfer of mandate territory from one power to another by mutual agreement without reference to the league of nations, and acquisition by Great Britain of her long cherished dream of an all rail route from the Mediterranean through territory under her exclusive political or military control.

In the settlement of the boundaries of the mandate territories the southern portion of Syria bordering on Palestine previously allotted to France by the league of nations is transferred to Great Britain and provision is made for the construction of a British railway linking Palestine with the Mesopotamian railway system through the Syrian desert.

MRS. EDDY AND THE TEXT BOOK

In the light of the fruits of Christian Science during the last half century, does it not seem strange that the world should have waited so long since the time of the early Christian era for some one to appear and call attention to the promises of the Bible and the possibility of their practical fulfillment in our human experience? Even more strange, is it not, that when Mrs. Eddy, a sweet, gentle, pure-minded woman did appear and began to heal the sick and to perform many of these wonderful works and meekly and lovingly called the world's attention to her demonstration as being at least in part a fulfillment of Biblical promise, that she should have been subjected to persecution at the hands of Jesus' professed followers? Ignoring, however, the persecution, the lack of sympathy and interest manifested by the world in her discovery during the early years, Mrs. Eddy never wavered in her task, but patiently and earnestly studied the Bible, that she might find the positive rule for the solution of this problem of Mind-healing which had been so graciously and wonderfully revealed to her through her own instantaneous healing from what the doctors had pronounced an incurable physical condition. The result of her studies she had since given to the world in the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," commonly called Science and Health, which was published in 1875.

In this book, there is a chapter devoted to Genesis, and another to the Apocalypse, or Revelation of St. John, wherein is set forth the spiritual correct interpretation of the Bible, thus justifying that part of the title, "Key to the Scriptures," the last chapter of the book called "Fruitage" is a series of wonderful testimonies from men and women from widely separated localities, testifying to having been healed of blindness, deafness, rheumatism, Bright's disease, tumor, dyspepsia, cancer, tuberculosis, fever, colds and nearly every known disease simply by reading this book, Science and Health. The book itself needs to be read, for therein is unfolded with marvelous simplicity and power, the theory of healing and salvation as taught by Jesus of Nazareth.

One of the practical tributes to the book is seen in the fact that it is to be found in public libraries all over the civilized world.

Contrary to some critics of Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy never intended that the text book should take the place of the Bible, but it is to be studied and read in connection with the Bible. It was meant to be just what its name implies, a "Key to the Scriptures," and a text book on Christian Science. Within the pages of the book itself Mrs. Eddy says, "As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal Life." (Science and Health, p. 497). Again she says, "In following these leadings of scientific revelation, the Bible was my only textbook." (Science and Health, p. 110.)

As the years have come and gone during these more than fifty years since Mrs. Eddy's discovery, an ever-widening circle has been covered by Christian Science, and an ever increasing host of its adherents, men and women, are daily bearing witness to its healing and saving power, and rendering their tribute of praise and thanksgiving to its revered Discoverer and Founder. There is, however, nothing of worship or deification in the attitude of Christian Scientists toward Mrs. Eddy, but rather the natural spontaneous expression of gratitude, which one might expect from persons whose lives have been uplifted by the power of her inspired teaching.

It is possible that up to the time of her discovery of Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy never thought of becoming a great religious teacher or leader, and yet no other of the world's great leaders ever lived to see such a substantial and extensive growth and organization result from his own teaching. Such results, however, are to be expected always when work is done as was Mrs. Eddy's work. The presence of God was not a mere theory to her but an actual fact on which she relied in establishing the Christian Science movement as well as in all other things.

Early in the practical operation of Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy saw that the then existing churches were not ready for Christian Science. Accordingly she established the Christian Science Church, The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, Massachusetts. From time to time as occasion demanded, and as she was divinely led, she wrote the By-laws now comprising the Manual of the Mother Church for the government of the Mother Church members and for the organization of branch churches and societies and the government of their members. That the Manual is the work of inspiration is attested by the fact that its provisions have been broad enough to cover every question that has arisen in this rapidly growing world-wide organization. Mrs. Eddy ever looked to the Manual in making decisions and she said of it, "Of this I am sure, that each Rule and By-law in this Manual will increase the spirituality of him who obeys it, invigorate his capacity to heal the sick, to comfort such as mourn, and to awaken the sinner." (Miscellany, p. 230). Loyal Christian Scientists have always been grateful for the Manual and are ever attempting to follow obediently its provisions, thus meriting this tribute from their Leader, "Among the manifold soft chimes that will fill the haunted chambers of memory, this is the sweetest: 'Thou hast been faithful!'" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 343.)

GOD.

Christian Science has revealed the correct concept of God. It has courageously and reverently asked the question, "What is God?" and has given the answer that is satisfying to thinking men and thinking women: God is Love, Life, Truth, Soul, Mind, Spirit, Principle. Perhaps the term Principle as used for God has more than any other aroused the opposition of the critics of Christian Science. They contend that to speak of God as Principle takes away His personality, robs Him of His fatherhood, tenderness, and other so-called human attributes. Christian Scientists believe that it is time for the world to get away from the idea of an anthropomorphic or man made God, a sort of superhuman. The text-book says, "Human philosophy has made God manlike. Christian Science makes man Godlike." (Science and Health, p. 269.)

PRINCIPLE

Principle is eternal, without beginning or end, is perfect, immovable, inviolable, unerring, ever active. Principle can not be moved by the breath of praise or flattery, or by entreaty or by threat. In the thought of God as Principle, Christian Scientists have abandoned the idea that God interferes in the affairs of men at the behest of this one or that one, or that He interferes with His own laws, causing the unnatural or supernatural to be happening in the affairs of men. Christian Science shows that God's creation is already perfect, complete, consequently the true mission of scientific Christianity is to reveal this fact to us and then to show us how to overcome in our own lives and experiences every thing and every thought that is unlike God and His creation.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE TREATMENT

As a practical example, let us suppose a man to be sick, and that he desires the help of God, and turns to Christian Science to be made well. Since God's work is already done, there is no specific or individual action required of God that this man's condition should be made right. The Bible says that God looked upon His work, and that it was very good. The treatment or prayer of the Christian Science practitioner, is a clear positive, knowing and understanding that God has made all and made all good. God created man in His own image and likeness, and as a necessary result of the law of creation, man in God's image and likeness must be Godlike. He must reflect the Godlike qualities, joy, peace, harmony, dominion, freedom, power. God being good, has not created, and from the very nature of goodness, could not have created any fevers, pains or aches of any kind, and since God is the only power, no other power has created them, and man can not have them, because they do not really exist.

To persons accustomed to the use of material remedies in case of illness such a system, of course, only briefly and inadequately outlined by me, might not at first be considered scientific or beneficial, yet the actual experience of any one who will test it according to the principle and rule of Christian Science will prove that it is both scientific and beneficial.

But, says a friend, "Why try to say I am not and can not be sick when I know I have this pain? No one can be found who will have more loving consideration for those suffering from disease and pain than a Christian Scientist. Christian Science is not an admonition to bear suffering patiently, nor to endure it stoically, but is, on the contrary, a scientific system by which disease and suffering are to be overcome. It shows any person who will earnestly study and practice it that the evidence of the human senses is all there is to any suffering, and if this evidence be changed or overcome, the disease and suffering disappear.

Have you ever observed how the physical senses are so easily and commonly deceived? There is not a day, nor perhaps an hour, but what we are the victims of some false testimony of the senses. The school boy crosses the first two fingers of his hand, closes his eye, and has his crossed fingers rubbed over a marble and the sense of touch will indicate to him two or three marbles instead of one. Stand in the car track and follow the rail with the eye and the sense of sight will tell you that presently the rails come together, but it isn't true. Or, sit in the railroad train that is standing and look out of the window at a moving train on an adjacent track and every sense tells you that you and your train are moving, and practically your only escape from this delusion is to look away from the moving train and see things as they really are. In exactly the same way when the human senses speak to us of sickness, sorrow and separation, we should look away from the things of sense to God, and see Him as He really is; see and know the real man as he is in God's image and likeness, and we shall come to know that the real man cannot be sick nor discordant. In this connection, one may see how much of good can be accomplished and how much of sickness and evil destroyed by a process of correct thinking and knowing.

For instance, if you stood at your front window and saw a man with a club in his hand approaching the house and knew from current report that this man would, if permitted to enter the house, maltreat its occupants, would you sit down and, without resistance, suffer the man's assault? Not at all; you would bar the doors and windows and resist to the limit of your strength. Yet you doubtless permit all sorts of unhealthy diseased thoughts to enter your consciousness daily and hourly with little or no resistance, perhaps not aware that you have a sure defense. To illustrate: Almost daily one hears discussions and declarations of disease, lack, envy, greed and other undesirable states of mind and body. More frequently than otherwise, the listeners to these discussions, instead of discounting or denying their reality, admit them into consciousness as real and true, and thus are implanted seeds that produce far more distress and suffering in their fruition than would result from the assault of the man with the club.

A notable instance of suffering and destruction resulting from this mental attitude is witnessed in the lives of children. There is a common belief entertained by a majority of doctors and laymen that all children must be the victims of certain so-called children's contagious diseases. Many excellent mothers in most respects are never happy and satisfied with their children until each child has experienced every one of these children's diseases, lest forsooth the child might contract the disease in adult years with more pernicious effects.

What a cruel and unnatural belief that our God, who is Love, would make a specialty of afflicting and destroying helpless and innocent children. How much more natural and helpful it is to know and understand that God, who is the author of good, is never the author of evil.

Thus we need to bar the door of our consciousness against the admission of all such harmful thoughts of disease and evil. Likewise we need to know when the human consciousness becomes spiritualized through right thinking and knowing, and man is revealed to be the manifestation of Spirit, not matter; the divine Mind is reflected and man is governed by God. Mrs. Eddy says, "God will heal the sick through man whenever man is governed by God." (Science and Health, p. 495). As the light of this healing truth is carried into that consciousness darkened by fear and ignorance, it banishes all sense of error, even sickness as well as sin, and illumines that consciousness with light and love. In speaking of Jesus' treatment of the sick during his earthly ministry, the Christian Science text book says, "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Savior saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick." (Science and Health, pp. 476 and 477.)

God, an infinite, eternal power, is always present in the world to heal the world of all its sickness and to solve all its problems. He comes not to Christian Scientists alone, but to all who approach Him through a spiritual understanding of His infinite power. It is the mission of Christian Science to help men and women to come into the relation or understanding in which they may recognize, to use a scientific expression, their at-one-ment with God. When a man's consciousness reaches that state of understanding he will be healed of any sickness, and whatever his problem, it will be solved.

In many Christian Science meetings, at the regular church services, and at lectures, men and women do come to a realization and understanding that this power of God is present in their lives and they are healed.

MAN

This brings me to a discussion of what man is, and of his relation to God. In the book of Genesis are found two distinct and dissimilar accounts of man's creation. Until I studied the subject of Christian Science I never saw the distinction between these two accounts of creation, yet they are quite unlike.

In the first chapter of Genesis the record runs, "So God created man in His own image, in the image of God created He him, male and female created He them." Christian Science teaches that this is the correct account of man's creation. It sets forth the spiritual man. When Christian Science says that man cannot be sick, nor suffer, nor sin, nor die, reference is made to this real man, this God-created, this spiritual man; or, to use a scientific term, this God-idea.

Christian Science teaches that creation is not the molding of forms out of matter, but is the unfolding of spiritual ideas; that men and women are ideas of God, of infinite Mind. It is fine mental and spiritual growth to dwell in the consciousness of one's spiritual being, and one is led thereby to see the force and truth of Mrs Eddy's statement on page 14 of Science and Health: "Become conscious for a single moment that Life and intelligence are purely spiritual—neither in nor of matter, and the body will then utter no complaints. If suffering from a belief in sickness, you will find yourself suddenly well."

Other systems of religious instruction have likewise taught the perfection of spiritual man, but they have not made their teaching practical. They have generally assumed that man must first die and be resurrected and then be invested with his spiritual nature. They have scarcely dared to hope that this life could be other than the generally accepted "vale of tears." Christian Science shows that the truth concerning spiritual man is scientific truth, and through Christian Science may be understood, and become operative in behalf of humanity. It teaches that the presence of God in our lives is not and should not be a vague or far off, uncertain thing, but a living, throbbing, vital presence on which man may and should rely in all circumstances and under all conditions.

This will be a wonderful world when more men and women realize their God-given heritage and possession. There will be less envying, hating, judging, killing, and more of what Paul calls "the fruit of the spirit," love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness for man is the reflection of God's goodness, of God's love, indeed of all the qualities of God, and it is only in the perfect reflection that God is expressed in the world. Was not this spiritual man what Jesus had in mind when He said, "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father in Heaven is perfect?"

Now let us consider the other account of creation. In the second chapter of Genesis, the record runs, "And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and man became a living soul." And then how woman was created, how God caused a deep sleep to fall upon man, and from his side He took a rib and of the rib woman was made. Ever since that concept of man created from the dust, he has been the victim of sin, sickness, sorrow, and death. The historical part of the Old Testament is filled with an account of the sin, failures, destruction of this man of the dust. Earth's secular history today and for generations has been largely an account of the disappointments and disasters of this man of the dust. Has not the world been recently convulsed with its greatest tragedy, all because of the false aims, hopes and ambitions of this man of the dust?

Woman through the centuries has been regarded as an inferior creature, often a slave, all because of this false theory, that man is of the dust, and woman of his rib. It is only as Truth is enlightening the world that woman is achieving her rightful place as man's co-equal, and it will only be as the truth covers the earth, even as the waters cover the sea, that the world will come to know and understand the "male and female" of God's creation as revealed in the first chapter of Genesis.

With these two pictures before us, man of the earth, earthy, bowed beneath the weight of human misery and woe, and man in God's image and likeness, reflecting the Godlike, the spiritual, the perfect, why do we hesitate to proclaim ourselves and our race of the true type, with God-given power and dominion over every living thing; for God has ordained this power and dominion in the first chapter of Genesis, the 28th verse. Is it not, too, in harmony with the promise of Jesus quoted in the beginning of this lecture, "Behold I give unto you power over all the power of the enemy?" Does it not occur to you that when Jesus came to his earthly ministry and found man sick, sinning, sorrowing and dying, he remembered this early ordinance of God and reenacted it in those stirring words, calling the world to action on a basis of spiritual power with a new promise, and then proceeded to demonstrate by so-called miracles, step by step, man's power and ability to overcome all the power of the enemy?

MORTAL MIND

What is the enemy over which Jesus says we have power? Paul says: "To be carnally minded is death, but to be spiritually minded is life, and peace, because the carnal mind is enmity against God." The enemy is, therefore, the carnal or fleshly mind, or, as Mrs. Eddy calls it in Science and Health, the "mortal mind," as opposed to the divine Mind.

Mortal mind, as it is understood and used in Christian Science, is not an entity, but is rather the absence of the reflection of the divine Mind. It is, in other words, a state of ignorance, and when it is the only mind that a human being has or knows anything about, it subjects him to every ill to which the flesh is heir, and this subjection is not decreased but is rather increased by what is ordinarily called education, unless this education be carried on with an understanding of the truth about God as revealed in Christian Science. For instance, the man who knows most and is the best educated on the subject of so-called symptoms of disease, is soonest the victim of some disease, or, the man who is best informed on the subject of human anatomy is oftenest finding something wrong with his anatomy. Was not this thought in the mind of the wise man, King of Jerusalem, when he wrote a long time ago, "for in much wisdom is much grief, and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow."

Mortal mind is full of fear, doubt, anxiety, envy, hatred, malice, and what not of all this evil brood. It is no wonder that man governed by mortal mind is sick. Every so-called disease is some phase of mortal mind, fear, ignorance or sin. Jesus early in his ministry told his disciples that they had power over this enemy, and this is easily understood, for everyone can see that in proportion as he becomes enlightened, he has power over ignorance, especially when he perceives that this ignorance has constituted his own mentality. This is what Jesus meant when he said at another time, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

As Christian Scientists, it is our mission, our constant effort and prayer to have always in us that Mind which was also in Christ Jesus. As Mrs. Eddy says, "Hold thought steadfastly to the enduring, the good and the true, and you will bring these into your experience proportionately to their occupancy of your thoughts." (Science and Health, p. 261.) Is not this perhaps what the prophet of old had in mind when he said of God, "Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil and canst not look upon iniquity?"

UNREALITY OF EVIL

This brings me to a discussion of the unreality of evil, for which teaching Christian Science has sometimes been criticized. What a wonderful world this would be if it could be rid of evil—and it can be. Evil is only in our consciousness and if we can understand that it is unreal we shall be rid of it. All will agree that God is good and that He has all power; and being good and having all power, we must, to be logical, conclude that God has made all things good and consequently has not created any evil. Then you ask, where did evil originate. Someone may say it started with Satan, or devil, but surely God in His infinite goodness could never have conceived or created a monster of evil.

But you say, what will you do with the Satan or devil of the Bible? Hear what Jesus says of him: "He was a murderer from the beginning and abode not in the truth because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own, for he is a liar and the father of it." In these simple, emphatic words, Jesus at once and forever wiped out the lie about devil that has been responsible for all the sickness, fear, doubt, sorrow and sin that have come to the world.

Is it not the lie of which we read in the beginning which said to Eve, God has not told you the truth? You have but to eat of the other fruit and you will become as God? Does it not come to us today in words like this, God is too big, too universal, too much concerned with other things to be conscious of the individual, and you cannot be healed by him? And does it not say, what you need is to perfect yourself in material knowledge and learning and you will become as a god and heal yourself and solve your problems? It is all untrue. If we may not look to God for help in every human problem, we need not look to man.

Some one asks if the unreality of evil means that man is not to suffer for what we call evil deeds. His answer is plain: "God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap. For he that soweth to his flesh, shall of the flesh reap corruption, but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting."

Evil is unreal, but we come to an understanding of this as the result of thought and demonstration. One does not learn mathematics by beginning with trigonometry and calculus, but by learning that one and one are two, two and two are four, and by working his way up through arithmetic, algebra and other branches to higher mathematics, so with all science, and so with Christian Science. One's understanding comes with careful study and demonstration. Would you know what is meant by demonstrating or proving the unreality of evil? One can prove the unreality, the nothingness of evil by proving the all ness of God. Let us go forth tomorrow with the thought of God's goodness and love in all things. Let us see nothing, say nothing, do nothing, be nothing, believe nothing, that is unlike goodness or love. Do you hear a man cough? Do not turn instantly and fix cold or influenza or any other disease upon him. That would be unlike goodness and love. Know that God never made a cough, therefor it is unreal and does not belong to man.

Do you see a man limping there on crutches? Do not fix lameness on him. That would be unlike goodness or love. Lameness is no part of God's creation, therefore it does not belong to God's man, and should not bind him. Do you suppose Peter and John when they approached the temple and saw lying at the gate the man, a cripple from his mother's womb, began to think of weak muscles and undeveloped bones and structures? No, they saw nothing unlike goodness and love. They saw God's man, and said to him, "In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and walk," and he was instantly made whole.

In Science and Health, page 123, we read "Divine Science, rising above physical theories, excludes matter, resolves things into thoughts, and replaces the objects of material sense with spiritual ideas."

Let us try this plan in our destruction of evil. We may begin on the members of the household by seeing them as thoughts; thoughts of God, expressions of His goodness and His love, existing to bless the home and all mankind. Contrariwise, let us not see them as selfish, impatient, intolerant, and all such evil thoughts or beliefs will be banished from the home. Then home will become the abiding place of love, goodness and harmony.

Maybe you are a teacher, then go forth to your school seeing the children not as disobedient, rude, mischievous, or unintelligent. Shall we not rather see them as thoughts of God, expressions of God's goodness, love, and reflecting the intelligence of the divine Mind? You have no right to limit a child's intelligence when God has not. You can see how these uplifting thoughts will change your entire outlook and make a new school—one that will bless you, the children and all mankind.

Perhaps some of you are workers in other lines—clerks or proprietors of stores.

It does not make any difference in working God's way about one's rank, whether he be clerk or proprietor. The proper business or work for him in either instance is to prove God and His all-ness. Then do not see the business as so many selfish clerks to be handled or as a cruel boss to be dealt with, or as so much material to be shown to customers, then put on the shelves day after day. Resolve all the business into thoughts of God, expressions of God's goodness, God's love, existing to bless clerks, proprietors, customers and all mankind. To wait on customers is added opportunity day after day to show forth the goodness and love of God whose reflections you are. It this means opportunity to bless each customer and should mean great joy to you and to them.

In every store will be found old stock, worn, out of date, get it down, resolve it into a thought of God's goodness and love existing to bless mankind. It will meet someone's need who hasn't money enough for prevalent prices. Let divine Mind direct you in disposing of it, and it will bless someone—it has its right place and through this process that place can be found.

Christian Science is trying to teach men that for every human need they should look to God, to the spiritual and not to the material. There is nothing in all God's creation to fear, for God is All-in-all and one cannot fear God or good.

Why is man's first thought, "Wherewithall shall I be clothed and housed and fed?" Has man so soon forgotten that Jesus said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these other things shall be added unto you?" In that connection Jesus has just been talking about clothes and food. Should it be thought a strange thing that God does give good things to the children of His love? Jesus told us in effect that much more than our earthly father does the Heavenly Father know how to give good gifts to them that ask Him. One may ask, if Jesus promise means, that to take up the study in earnest of Christian Science, would result in health, happiness and prosperity? The answer is found in the lives of the great host of men and women the world around who have sought the kingdom of God and His righteousness and whose business has prospered and whose lives are filled with health, harmony, love and gladness. It is but a verification of what the apostle said. "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

FORGIVENESS OF SINS

It has sometimes been asked if Christian Science teaches that sin is forgiven. It does. Sin is forgiven when it's nothingness is understood and the sinner no longer indulges therein. To pray for forgiveness, and to continue in sin does not raise a man to any new state of consciousness or well-being. It is like praying to an idol, it does not accomplish anything, but to know and understand that the illusions called sin are unreal, and confer no sweetness, or power, is to rise above sin and destroy it, consequently to find forgiveness.

Let us consider an instance in the life of the Master. On the occasion when the scribes and Pharisees brought before him a woman taken in adultery, they were seeking the destruction of the woman and meaning at the same time to involve the Master in a conflict with Jewish law. They assured Him that the woman was guilty, and that the law commanded that such as she should be stoned, but that they desired to know what He had to say. The record states that he stooped and with his finger he wrote on the ground. Is it not possible that in that moment the Master turned His gaze away from the group that He might pray, that He might see each one of that group as God's idea, an expression of God's goodness and God's love? He did not want to see self-righteous condemning scribes and Pharisees, nor did He wish to see an impure, sinful woman, but He did want to see each one as a child of God, expressing God-like qualities.

Promise Made That Divine Love Always Will Meet Every Need of Human Race

From the result, we may judge whether or not the Master's treatment, or prayer, was effective; the men, one by one, went out and left the woman alone. The Master, then looking upon her, asked where were her accusers, and being informed that there were none, He answered: "Neither do I condemn thee, go and sin no more." Thus Jesus taught that His mission was not to condemn, but to save the world. As followers of Him, are men more apt now to condemn or to seek to save? Is not our way to group men in our thoughts and to label them—one group with a certain disease, another group with some disease, then one group guilty of this crime, and another group guilty of some other crime—in other words, condemning them to disease and sin when God has not?

Let us rather be followers of the Master and try to save our fellowmen by knowing and understanding that they are God's children and as such neither sick nor sinful.

JESUS, THE CHRIST

Christian Science has been assailed because of its teachings concerning Jesus, and it has been denied a place among so-called orthodox religions because it teaches that Jesus was not God. When we remember the difficulty that Jesus had in making even His disciples understand who and what He was, it is not strange that the Christian Science teaching on this subject has been misunderstood. Perhaps few of the immediate followers of Jesus saw the distinction between the human Jesus and the Christ, but Christian Science has made this distinction clear.

The man Jesus was human, born of Mary, and His life covered but a brief span of years, but the Christ, which was not a name so much as the divine title *of Jesus, expressing His God*like nature, is eternal, and is ever inseparable from God. Jesus, in referring to Himself as the Christ, said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." "Before Abraham was, I am," and again "Lo, I am with you alway." The Christ is now and always has been present in the world to be discerned by men. Through the ages, there have been men like Moses, Joseph, Elijah, Elisha, Daniel and others, who discerned and expressed a large measure of this Christ, Truth, and were able to perform many wonderful works.

Jesus of Nazareth came to earth to be the Way-shower, or as Paul says, the mediator between God and man. He came to show men their power to overcome in this life, disease and death. He possessed more of the divine nature than any other person who has ever lived, and He was therefore called Jesus, the Christ, or Christ Jesus.

The Christ can no more be confined to an individual than can God, or divine Principle, or Love but comes even as the spirit of Love into the lives of men as they rightly seek Him and desire Him. It is true that Jesus said, "I and My Father are one," but this expression is not at all inconsistent with Jesus' other statements concerning himself. He was one with the Father as it is explained in the Christian Science textbook, "One in quality, not in quantity," even as a drop of water is one with the ocean, but it is not the ocean or a ray of light is one with the sun but it is not a sun; so is every man and woman as an idea of God one with the Father, else how could Paul have been correct when he said, "For in Him we live and move and have our being." When Jesus said "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden," it was not to the human Jesus He was asking us to come, but to the Christ, "Truth, that redeems and saves. To those of us who have but touched the hem of His garment, have but caught even a faint glimpse of this Christ that heals of sin, sickness, sorrow and death has come the fulfillment of Jesus' promise, "And I will giv you rest."

Keeping Friend Husband's Admiration

Has it ever occurred to you that there is a close relationship between admiration and laundry service? Admiration springs not alone from charm of manner. It has its origin equally in physical grace, it is awakened in men by that quality in woman called daintiness—that quality which is a combination of complexion, of carriage, of trimness, of hands well kept. Friend Husband was attracted by them in the beginning—and he admires them yet

But nothing is so ruinous to daintiness as the toil of washday; the bending over washboards and the coarsening of hands that comes from contact with heavy soap and wash water. More than all other household duties, the family washing is destructive of personal charm

Yet this wastage of the daintiness that is yours is needless in this day and age. If you will but say the word we will do the washing for you—do it economically and as thoroughly as you would yourself

Try us. Let us relieve you of the labor of washday. Just telephone and we will have our route representative call

What is it makes washday the most wearisome of domestic ordeals? Unquestionably it is the reek and smell; the boiling and tubbing and the sloshing of mussy water.

For while methods have been devised for making the manual work of washday less, these other unpleasant features must remain as long as washing is done in the home. And, the problems of help and laundresses likewise remain.

The laundry service rendered by the the modern laundries of the East Bay Cities is the one means by which you can cross washday out of your life. These laundries unburden you of all the objectionable features of washday in the home.

Moreover they give you leisure for more agreeable household duties; leisure for more service to the children and to Friend Husband; leisure for the more important services that are beckoning women everywhere

You will take pride in the snowiness of your linen after one of the modern laundries of the East Bay Cities has laundered it. You will find joy in the fluffiness of towels, in the refreshing cleanliness of everything.

Let one of the modern laundries of the East Bay Cities help you cross washday out of your life. Telephone one of them and a route representative will call for your family bundle.

IT PUT HIM BACK ON JOB SAYS THOMPSON

Oakland Man Unable to Work for Eighteen Months—Gives Tanlac Credit for Restoring Him After Flu.

"It's an honest fact I am able to work now for the first time in a year and a half and I give full credit to Tanlac for restoring my health," said J. Wm. Thompson, 559 Aspen St., Oakland, Calif., recently.

"Soon after I got out of the army I contracted the flu and my case was so serious they didn't think I could live. I was laid up for eighteen months. I was left so weak I could hardly stand up and my appetite was so poor that I actually didn't care to eat a thing. My nerves were a total wreck and many a night I didn't sleep a wink. I thought I never would get over it and it looked like I would never be able to work again.

"I'll admit I didn't think Tanlac could help me, but three bottles have the same as made me all over again. My friends are astonished and I can hardly realize it myself. I eat three rousing meals a day and am gaining in weight right along. My nerves are strong and steady and I sleep as sound as I ever did in my life. To put it in a few words, I am feeling fine. I don't hesitate a minute to recommend Tanlac, for I know I can't make a mistake by doing so."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco, Oakland and Berkeley by The Owl Drug Company Stores and Eberly's Quality Pharmacy, Alameda.—Advertisement.

It had been driven on its rims to the point where it was found and it was with little difficulty that the police pulled the wreck to the Thirteenth street house.

There they say they discovered the accessories, and said that Johnson, being arrested, broke down and confessed. He said he had turned in an old car and promised to pay $700 on his new machine in purchasing it from H. R. Drollinger, 1[illegible]0 South Main street, Los Angeles. He had paid about $100 and saw no signs of being able to make up the balance.

"I thought that by selling the accessories I would get some of my own money back and that Drollinger would get all of his as he holds the insurance policy," was Johnson's explanation, according to the police.

MAN BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN SLAIN TAKEN FROM BAY

Body Washed Ashore at Angel Island Bears Marks of Fatal Attack

SAN RAFAEL, Feb. 21.—The body of a well-dressed man which was found washed upon the western shore of Angel Island Saturday is as yet unidentified. The police believe that the man was murdered.

Investigation by Deputy Coroner William Sorensen revealed that the skull had been fractured by a heavy blow, evidently by some blunt instrument. A leather belt had been drawn so tightly around the neck as to cause strangulation, according to the police. The feet and arms had been tightly bound by heavy cord.

When the body was discovered the Marin county officials believed that it might have drifted up from the lower bay region on the tide and requested a report from the San Francisco and Oakland police. The police departments of the lower bay reported that no one had been reported missing that answered to the description furnished them by the San Rafael police. With this information the police here began an investigation.

The body had been in the water about three weeks. All indications point out that the man was evidently wealthy or at least in comfortable circumstances.

The teeth were in excellent condition, although two had been knocked out during the time the body was in the water. The clothing on the body was made of the best of cloth. The body was clothed in a blue serge suit and black laced shoes, size No. 9. In one of the coat pockets was found an empty bill case and about the neck was a black silk handkerchief.

The police base their hopes on establishing an identification upon a gold watch found on the body. The timepiece is believed to be of French manufacture. The case bears the maker's name, "Jezonet," with the serial number 900110. On the case is engraved a lion's head and crown and crescent with the monogram "K. L."

20 GALLONS OF BOOZE SEIZED IN HOME RAID

Inspector William B. Kyle's bootleg squad raided a private home at 834 Peralta street late last night, arrested Martin Saulovich and John Kosoni for violation of the prohibition laws and seized a hundred gallons of mash, twenty gallons of corn whisky and a small still.

The raid was made after Policeman E. T. Anderson of the dry squad purchased a quart of moonshine whisky from the men for $18 and was told that he could have an unlimited amount at the same figure. Both men are being held for the federal authorities.

Bad Check Suspect Held to Answer

Rufus R. Smith, accused of passing a fictitious check for $25 on the driver of a taxi service several weeks ago, was held to answer to the Superior Court on the felony charge today, following a preliminary examination before Police Magistrate Edward J. Tyrrell. Bail was set at $2[illegible]5.

Police say they hold several other warrants also charging bad check operations against Smith. The latter's attorney told the court that his client is at present facing insanity proceedings in the Superior Court.

Keep that schoolgirl complexion

A firm, fresh and blooming skin, radiant with health and free from blemishes, isn't the attribute of early youth alone. Every woman can keep her schoolgirl complexion long after early youth has flown.

Proper care is the secret—care which keeps the skin in perfect health. This means the scientific cleansing which makes each tiny pore and skin cell active. You must use soap and water freely—you must use it every day.

But not harsh soap—not soap which dries and irritates. Select mild, soothing soap, which cleanses gently—soap with a smooth, creamy lather—soap made from the bland, cosmetic oils Cleopatra used.

Cleanser, tonic and lotion

This soap is Palmolive, delicately fragrant, and the attractive natural color of its beautifying ingredients.

Its profuse, creamy lather penetrates every pore, dissolves dirt, perspiration and excess oil secretions. The rinsing water carries them away. No clogging accumulation remains to make your skin coarse.

This gentle cleansing acts as a tonic, reviving tired nerves and muscles and stimulating each minute gland and capillary. This gives natural color.

It is lotion-like in its action, leaving your skin soft and smooth. Just add a touch of cold cream and you are through.

If your skin is very dry, or when you use rouge and powder, apply cold cream before as well as after washing.

If your skin seems soft and lacking in firmness, apply cold water liberally. This condition often follows the use of cold cream alone for cleansing.

This finest facial soap costs 10 cents a cake

This price is possible because we make Palmolive in such vast volume. The Palmolive factories work night and day. We buy the costly ingredients in enormous quantities.

You can't buy a better soap no matter what price you pay, because science can't make finer soap. But the price allows you to provide it for general family use, a luxury all may enjoy.

The beauty secret of ancient Egypt

This use of Palm and Olive oils as cosmetic cleansers is a beauty secret discovered 3,000 years ago in ancient Egypt.

The Greeks and Romans also knew their value. Palm and olive oils adorned their sumptuous marble baths.

Now in scientific modern days these same beautifying oils are combined in the most popular of facial soaps. They still hold first place as soothing, healing, beautifying cleansers.

Volume and efficiency permit us to sell Palmolive for

HAUNTING MEMORIES

Grace Draper! The girl who had come so near to wrecking my marital happiness that I could not think of the slender margin whereby it had escaped destruction without a shudder. The girl who in fiendish revenge for her failure to win Dicky's love away from me, had schemed his death and had been thwarted only by the last minute maudlin repentance of Harry Underwood. The girl whose influence upon Dicky, even though I knew that he loathed her, I yet psychically dreaded. I could not rid myself of the feeling that Grace Draper alive and freed from her prison bonds was a menace of evil in my life from the consciousness of which I would never be free again.

A STRANGE MESSAGE

My mind went swiftly as a drowning person's over the many incidents of my life in which this girl with her angel's face and her devil's soul had figured, lingered longest with terrified fascination upon that summer day in the year following my marriage when she lay shamming delirium from her self inflicted wounds, pretending to go over tender scenes with Dicky. Dr. Pettit had exposed her shamming but the quiet malignance of her words and tone as I left the room that day I never have been able to bury so deeply as to forget them altogether.

"But you will never know, will you, Madgie dear, just how much of what I said was false and how much true?"

With the resolve to believe my husband utterly I had striven strenuously to put the remembrance of the words and the woman who had uttered them entirely away from me. But there had been moments as I had known there would be at her bedside that day when her words had come back to me with intensified power to sear and scar. The sight of the woman whose figure resembled Grace Draper's had brought such a moment to me and even my dread of the woman was dwarfed by the old gnawing doubt which was tearing at my heart.

I forced myself to composure, however, as the taxi turned into Lillian's street, tried to appear as if nothing had happened when Betty, my friend's faithful old colored cook, opened the door.

"Come right in, Miss Madge," she exclaimed with a broad smile of welcome. "I'se been watchin' fo' yoh, chile, foh de las half hour. Mis' Lillian she had to go out unexpected like, but she'll be back directly. I spects she tuk her foot in her hand and is makin' right smaht down de avenoo. She say yoh was to go into her room, do any primpin' yoh wanted, an' she tole me to specially tell you not to go into the library till she got back."

Wondering at the queer message I turned to enter Lillian's wonderful white and crimson living room. As I did so I caught sight of a hat and topcoat in the hall. Lillian had a masculine caller then whom she did not wish me to meet until she was with me.

Who could it be?

It was but a few minutes before I heard Lillian's signalling ring to Betty, then a low toned question, Betty's voluble response and a moment later my friend's quick, firm step across the living room to the rose-hued bedroom which Lillian had kept inviolate for her small daughter in the weary years when she was deprived of her. Now Marion was its dainty priestess but her mother generally shared the room at night and it was the one to which I was always ushered. Lillian and I had many mutual memories of that room—confidences shared, plans made, dangers discussed in the dramatic days when I aided her in her secret service work.

"Well! Lady!" Her voice was cheery as ever, and to almost any one else in the world her face would have presented an absolutely care free expression. But with observation sharpened by my rasped nerves I saw that the little fine lines running from nostrils to lips were more deeply etched than usual—an infallible sign of tension in Lillian—and I knew that her nonchalant look was only the mask which she can draw at will over her face.

The vague fears that her telephone message had given me came back with redoubled force, but it is a matter of pride with me never to show panic before Lillian if I can help it. She is so perfectly poised, so absolutely the mistress of her own emotions that to give way to my fears before her would be a humiliation indeed.

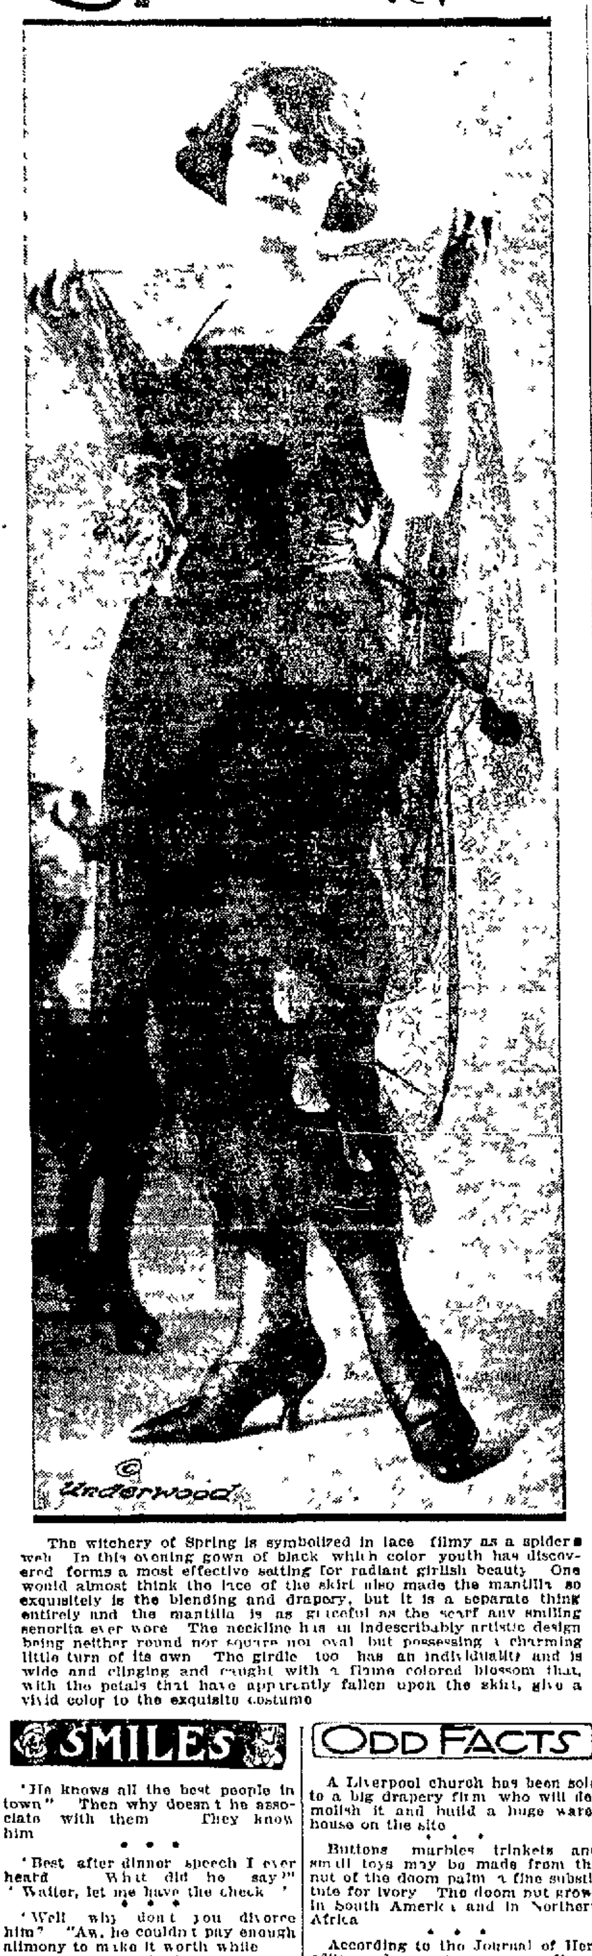
Late FASHION Hints



The witchery of Spring is symbolized in lace filmy as a spider's web. In this evening gown of black which color youth has discovered forms a most effective setting for radiant girlish beauty. One would almost think the lace of the skirt also made the mantilla so exquisite is the blending and drapery, but it is a separate thing entirely and the mantilla is as graceful as the scarf any smiling senorita ever wore. The neckline is an indescribably artistic design being neither round nor square nor oval but possessing a charming little turn of its own. The girdle too has an individuality and is wide and clinging and caught with a flame colored blossom that, with the petals that have apparently fallen upon the skirt, give a vivid color to the exquisite costume.

Letters of Tessie & Joe

DEAR JOE:

Say, Joe, do you know that baby of ours has a wonderful natural gift? He can tell time as good as any clock on a wall and better than a good many, especially the clocks around this house, which mostly seem to be telling the time in China or some such useless place, although you keep on promising to fix them every time you come home and never do, not that I'm knocking, Joe.

Anyway, Joe, about the baby's gift, it's really one of the seventeen wonders of nature the way he marks off every three hours as regular as clockwork, but not our clockwork, as I mentioned above. The way he does it, Joe, is by seeming to know that he's supposed to have his bottle every three hours rain or shine, and exactly when the three hours are up if he's asleep he wakens up and yells and if he's awake he merely yells. In fact, Joe, sometimes he's so prompt that he starts to yell even before the three hours are up, but he keeps on yelling until they are all the way up, thus making it absolutely accurate. Don't it give you a strange feeling, Joe, to think that your child is more wonderful than the most complicated cuckoo clock? It does me, Joe.

Do you think it's a symbol, Joe, that he'll be punctual when he grows up and always manly and on time for his engagements? If so, Joe, he won't be taking after you. I'll never forgive you, Joe, for being late for your own wedding that time. Not that I'm knocking, Joe, it takes all sorts of people to make a world and so of course it's the common fate of us women to marry some of them.

I'm still trying ice skating as a reducing exercise and I'm still unconsciously off my feet a large percentage of the time while I'm skating. All I can say is, people have a right to their own manners and customs, but I don't envy the Esquimaux sitting around talking on icebergs. Your loving wife,

TESSIE.

The Home Kitchen
by JEANNETTE YOUNG NORTON

There is nothing more happily suggestive of home than the home kitchen and the good things that come out of it to delight all the family. The home kitchen means more than just any kitchen, more than merely any cook—it is THE kitchen, THE cook. She may be mother or wife, probably she is you who read this.

As you may do more than merely cook just meats and vegetables and bake pies and cakes in your home kitchen, so this series of articles which will appear on this page will do more than plainly tell you how to do these things. You will find in the suggestions of Jeannette Young Norton something of that magic which translated to your kitchen spells the difference between mere food and delectable dainties that make of every meal a happy feast.

Do You Use Standard Weights and Measures?

In the making of recipes there seems to the uninitiated no end. To the born cook, however, there are never too many with which to experiment. The only thing that sometimes puzzles even the born cook is that she cannot quite understand what makes some recipes thinks to the letter. Now if each experimenter would take out her measuring teaspoons and tablespoons, her cup and scales, and compare them with those used by two or three of her neighbors she would be astonished to find that only the scales—if of guaranteed make—are at all alike.

One woman measures her cupful of this or that called for in the recipe in a large coffee cup, another uses a teacup, another even a big mustache coffee cup, while still another may use a straight tea mug. They are all cups after a fashion but no two are alike in size. The various spoons are also of differing capacity. It is small wonder that lack of standardization can cause dire consequences.

Therefore to avoid failure it is suggested that when in doubt about any measurements in the recipes which appear in this column you prove them by the three following tables as to exact quantities.

60 drops equals 1 teaspoon
3 teaspoons equals 1 tablespoon
4 tablespoons equals ¼ of a cup
5 1-3 tablespoons equals 1-3 of a cup
8 tablespoons equals ½ of a cup
16 tablespoons equals 1 cup
1 cup equals ½ pint
1 gill equals ½ a cup
1 pint or 2 cups of granulated sugar equals 1 pound
4 cups of sifted flour equals 1 pound
1 pint of water equals 1 pound
1 pint of solid fat equals 1 pound
10 eggs equals 1 pound
4 gills equals 1 pint
2 pints equal 1 quart
4 quarts equals 1 gallon

When a cupful is part of a recipe use a medium sized coffee cup. If in doubt prove the size by the rule.

When pats of butter or other fats are mentioned, pieces the size of a large pea are meant.

A spoonful is level unless a heaping spoonful is given.

A tumblerful means an ordinary drinking glass, not a jelly glass nor an ice tea glass.

Mincing means to chop the food very fine.

Sizes in fruit and vegetables vary with season and locality so latitude of judgment must be allowed. Atmospheric conditions influence boiling liquids to a surprising extent, a point the cook must watch. On some days extra liquid has to be added to keep the contents from burning. Though the recipe may say don't add more liquid, atmospheric circumstances must be considered.

When a varying period is given for the time of cooking a dish—say two to four hours—it must not be cooked less than two hours and as much longer as possible. Or the cooling time may be finished later in the day or the next morning in the cases of soup stocks, plum puddings, preserves, jams and some sorts of pickles.

In gauging an amount to fill four saucers, ramekins or patty pans it is wise to remember the lack of standard sizes; the amount will then be a little over or under what is required but not enough to be too much or a scant quantity.

The born cook grasps all these points intuitively and rarely has a failure with any recipe. The mechanical cook is not so sure of results. She should therefore develop her sense of proportion and good judgment during her apprenticeship if she is ambitious to become proficient in the art of cookery.

Please read each recipe carefully, see that all the needed ingredients are at hand and the fire in perfect condition before setting to work.

In baking a rising oven is usually most satisfactory. A small pan of water set in a gas oven adds the needed moisture that aids perfect baking.

Just Folks

THE LITTLE GIRL WITH A BROKEN NOSE

Poor little girl with the broken nose
Wondering why all the attention goes
To the baby now, and why daddy's knee
Isn't all your's as it used to be.
Oh, it's all so strange and it's all so queer
You used to have all of the love, my dear
And now there's another to claim a share
And somehow it doesn't seem just quite fair.

We can read the thought that so plainly lies
Beneath the furrows above your eyes
The mother can't play as she used to do
And spend so much of her time with you
And when folks come into the house you miss
The lips they offered for you to kiss,
They dance the baby about the floor
And don't seem to care for you any more.

Time was that all eyes seemed to shine for you
And glow with joy at the things you'd do,
But now unnoticed you seem to be,
For the smile of the baby is all they see,
They are kind to you but in some strange way
Your world has changed in a single day,
And somehow you know it won't be the same
As it used to be before baby came.

Poor little girl with a broken nose
That's ever the way that this old world goes—
Nothing we have shall we keep for long,
We must share our laughter and mirth and song
And the changes come and we wake to find
That always we're leaving some joy behind
Time breaks all our noses in just the way
That your's has been put out of joint today.

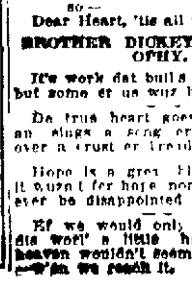
SONGS of FRANK L. STANTON

How May We Know?



Dear Heart, how may we know
To reap the roses ere the time of snow?
Life's May has many and the soft winds blow
Their petals o'er us—heaven and earth aglow,
Dear Heart, how may we know?

Fate has not willed it so,
Still hand-in-hand with flowery dreams we go;
No rain of tears than where the daisies grow
And of the Night of Winter and of woe
Dear Heart, how may we know?

Yet one more kiss bestow!
And listen to Love's accents soft and low!
Leave tears to after years, the life-tides flow
In music—and we love each other so—
Dear Heart, 'tis all we know!

BROTHER DICKEY'S PHILOSOPHY.

It's work dat builds de worl' up—but some er us wuz born tired.

De true heart goes along ways an sings a song er thankfulness over a crust er bread.

Hope is a great blessin'. Ef it wuzn't fer hope none er us would ever be disappointed.

Ef we would only try fer make dis worl' a little heaven, de big heaven wouldn't seem strange to us w'en we reach it.

Some of these Soviet people are pretty much worried about the winter. I thought mebbe they would be rejoined Farmer Cornfossel. The trouble with sovietism as far as I can make out is too much soap box and not enough wood box.

The Terrible Tempered Mr. Bang

RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF HIS SUNDAY AFTERNOON NAP HIS WIFE HAS TO AWAKE HIM TO RECEIVE SOME CALLERS WHO ARE AT THE DOOR.

CRY on GERALDINE'S SHOULDER

I [illegible] if any of you had an opinion on the subject of WIVES MANAGING HUSBANDS. Have they any opinions? Well I say they have. Here's one of the answers.

Dear Friend Jerry—

You want to hear from the men regarding jealousy and being managed. No men like to be managed, NOT WHEN THEY KNOW IT AND MOSTLY THEY DO. However they often take the line of least resistance and let friend Wife think it's working to keep her content. Just a word, Wifies. You can't chain the brute any more than you could harness the wind, not half as easily if he wishes to roam. He'll even use your own jealousy to gain his ends.

Personally I don't know all about women. She doesn't always know herself as an analysis of her writing will show. But I've studied women since I was a kid of twelve—some years ago I assure you—and I've learned a thing or two, and I could ALWAYS see when an attempt was being made to handle me. I gained the anger of girls and lost the regard of many by bluntly telling them I saw through their schemes. With friend wife I demanded a 50-50 proposition and I've gotten it. She has brains enough and sense enough of fair play to play the game. If she didn't she'd not have lived with me eighteen years and she'd never have gotten alimony from me either even if I had had to slip and hide somewhere in the South Seas.

I'm too sensitive by nature to stand submissively under a thing I don't like and I'm afraid my speech isn't any too gentle when I express my feelings. So wifie girl discusses things with me but lets me decide my own course when I'm concerned. I believe in fair play and I give her the same rights and treatment that I expect from her.

The Evil of Jealousy

I'm with you about jealousy Jerry. I would go further and say that I'd socially ostracize people proven guilty of jealousy as a menace to the good of humanity. God help both of us if WE had [illegible] holding hands a serious thing. It's merely an impulse of the moment and both of us have been guilty—and not sure we wouldn't again if we wanted to. But men don't usually care for but one woman and if they used any judgment she's the one they married. Personally being a bit Bohemian by nature I have a number of women friends not because they ARE women but because I like their society as human beings. But I haven't felt I wanted to live with even three out of the hundreds I've known. The proof is our eighteen years of married life of mutual battlings with the obstacles of life and the mothering and fathering of four children, two of whom we had to resign to the Great Beyond.

To sum up—If my wife attempted to manage me I'd soon tell her I saw through it—tears, flattery, cajolery or what not. She has to use reason or common sense to make me take notice. If she tried throwing the frying pan I'd throw it back and I WOULDN'T MISS. Then our paths would lie in DIFFERENT DIRECTIONS. If she were jealous and made it apparent I'd not be under the roof long, and the length of time she would have any claim on me would be very short. JEALOUSY IS SELFISHNESS. Think it over you who try to justify it under the name of Love. Love GIVES—Love has CONFIDENCE in the object of its regard—Love does NOT DEMAND but is willing to SACRIFICE personal desire, and willing to trust.

If men are children it is because their mothers did not let them learn to stand alone. A he man or a real woman don't want props to lean on. They like to stand on their two good feet and hold up their heads and face the world no matter what happens. If you want more some time Jerry say so. And in the meantime I might add—MY WIFE IS WORTH WHILE.

ONE OF THE MEN

A Two-Fisted Letter

Folks that's what I call a two-fisted letter. I'm joyfully grateful for it. And do I want more? Indeed I do, man—from you and all the rest. Nothing that Jerry could possibly write will do the good that such man letters can do.

And incidentally I might tell you an inside bit of "newspaper dope." This department is unique in all the United States in that it is the only department in which SANE, MATTER OF FACT MEN are taking part in discussing the problems of the home and so forth. You may not know it but your letters are being discussed from the Golden Gate to the Statue of Liberty and you're MAKING NEWSPAPER HISTORY. Jerry has written many a column but this is the first time the men on the street have helped. Thanks Pals.

Listen, World!

I met a man the other day. He was a very famous man. He was the chief Orange Peeler at a Highly Exclusive Tea and we hung on his words with bated breath. Of course to be strictly honest one of us' breath has been supposed to be abated for some months past but we hung anyway.

He ought to've been well worth listening to. He had absorbed most of the information supplied by two universities and 15 years residence with a large bank account. On social science he was supposed to be the Ultimate Howl. Then he began to spell—

And do you know World every particle of wisdom that Johnny had consumed must have soured on his mind. He was as peevish at the [illegible] as a kid with a three days' dose of measles. He'd studied so much that he's scorched the dew off all the daisies of life. He'd tasted of the apple of wisdom and to judge by his expression he'd found it ALL CORE with a worm in the core.

So I rise to remark what's the use of knowledge if it only makes you disagreeable? Since Eve first started it we've all been hungering for wisdom. But all sorts of fruits grow on the fabulous trees from which she plucked. SOME TREES OF KNOWLEDGE BEAR BALDWIN PEARS AND SOME BEAR GREEN PERSIMMONS. You'd better be careful what you pick before you begin to chew.

Here's someone defending the Native Daughter—and also passing a few boquets to Los Angeles. Pass away sister. We can spare 'em easily. She's a nice little town and she needs encouragement though I expect to be lynched for telling her so.

California Hospitality

Dear Jerry—

I'm going to answer Mrs. Lee's letter. I too have been in California the biggest part of my life but I do not agree with her. I have met many girls both Native Daughter and Easterners and found them all alike after you know them. My Eastern friends have been both boys and girls and they were VERY SLOW in letting you get acquainted with them but they are friendly afterwards. The Native Daughters and Sons were much easier to get acquainted with. I think that if she will try and won't feel too partial to the Easterners she will find California all right.

She is wrong about people saying no good about Los Angeles. My husband and cousins like it much better than San Francisco and they always want to go back there.

Now a word on giving women their seats in cars.

I have been a working girl Jerry and I know how it feels to stand up in a car when there are women who have been to a [illegible] or some such place who are sitting down and criticising the girls who are standing up. I'd like to tell them just what I think of them and that's why I think that if a man is coming home from work as you can usually tell the laborer from the office man HE HAS AS MUCH RIGHT TO THAT SEAT AS ANYONE ELSE HAS!

MRS. J. J. CHENEY

I LIKE that pal folks even if she is partial to Los Angeles. I bet she doesn't go back there to live. We need her common sense right here at home. I'll bet she is the One Best Bet with some of the working men on the cars tonight.

Betty and Bill

I'm going right out and buy me a little gilt bow and arrow and a few yards of pink ribbon to tie about my middle and I'm going to play I'm Cupid. I might as well. For listen to the Tale of Bill and Betty. Bill had her. Or thought he had. Then she said "Wait a bit my dearie." Bill didn't want to wait a bit. So he roared to Jerry. Now comes Betty and because there's a strong thought punch in her letter for other eighteen year olds I'm giving every word.

Dear Jerry—

Bill told you his side of a story of life and now I'm going to tell you mine. Bill wrote and asked you a few questions about a girl of eighteen breaking her engagement and why she doesn't want to get married yet. [illegible] want me to [illegible] the time comes [illegible]. Who wouldn't? They are so good to me in every way and I have known them longer than I have Bill.

I've no doubt that Bill would make a wonderful husband, Jerry, but [illegible] so different than mine. His ways are settled and mine aren't.

I really don't think a girl of eighteen knows her own mind. Of course there are some girls who have settled ways at that age and others are quite the opposite. If I didn't have a good place to work, a home and parents it would be different but why give up these things for married life? We are only young once.

I have tried to be just the same to one boy as another but SOMEHOW BILL WAS ALWAYS MY FAVORITE.

My parents also like Bill very much but Jerry I can't get him to look at my side of the story at all. My only reason is because I am too young. I do hope Bill will read this. I think your column is just wonderful Jerry and you will always be my pal. Three cheers for Jerry.

BETTY

You darling he shan't marry you until you're ready—no he shan't. Bill you watch how DARE you try to bully her? Never mind though old boy—a little bird is telling me to tell you to look at that paragraph before the last and—GRIN! Take her some violets when you call tonight boy and when you kiss her tell her they're from Jerry and that she loves you both. Golly! Is Jerry SOME Cupid? I'll tell the world she is!

A Chat About Things

And here's just the DEAREST little chat!

Good morning Jerry—

The washing's out and the housework is done and now I'll get something off my mind. In the first place I am sorry that I did not explain myself better about Managing Husbands. I didn't mean the "I wear the pants" kind of management. I know there are some he men who are perfectly capable of looking out for their own affairs. But the majority need lots of advising and a strong shoulder to keep the Matrimonial Craft right side up. I know there have been many times in my life when I would have been glad to have someone manage me who had my welfare at heart. But the most important thing I am writing about is to get your views on these criticisms of Americans by foreigners. Won't you please publish your views on this subject Jerry. I am being told these foreign women are far superior to ours in intelligence, industry, morals etc. Of course it ruffles my feelings considerably. I am 100 per cent American and the men in my family have fought for every American cause down to date.

Now I'm the first one up in the morning and the last one to bed. I am on the spot 365 days of the year. I'm no slacker. I can milk a cow, raise chickens and farm with the best of them and I know there are thousands of good and industrious women in this good land of ours.

Jerry if this is such a poor country why, oh why do they want to stick around so close? Must we always stand with a welcome and open pocketbook to be spit on when our backs are turned? Is it true that American men are shirkers and loafers in industry and must give way to the less lazy foreigner? I can't hear these things without wanting to fight someone.

SUBSCRIBER

Jerry's Views

Here are my views Pal. Do I want to meet these Foreigners with reason and kindness when they write me long, crabbing articles about America and Americans? Does my kind ol' heart yearn over them lovingly and does my sweet nature long to spread light into their darkened souls?

NOT ON YOUR LIFE. IT DOESN'T. I YEARN TO HURL THE TYPEWRITER AT 'EM—That's how I yearn.

But you might as well be Napoleon on his little ole island as to be an editor. You're not supposed to HAVE human feelings. So I hang mine out of the window and I use terms of politeness foreign to my nature while I'm bristling with rage to the tips of my American ears.

Here's the truth. We HAVE faults my dear—BIG FAULTS. But they are the faults of the most beautiful and promising period of all life, whether it be individual or national—they're the faults of YOUTH.

And the countries from which these foreigners come have virtues—HARD, SET VIRTUES—the smug, prudent, calculating, cautious virtues of AGE.

But take it from me I'd rather be a young sinner than the oldest saint that ever cocked a halo over his weather beaten ear.

We ARE noisy and inconsistent and selfish and muddled at times. Yep, we're all those things. So is ALL GROWING LIFE noisy and inconsistent and selfish and muddled. And having tasted joy and freedom and the heady flavor of Dreams we don't think much of this old world scheme of working all the days of our youth in order to sit down on a [illegible] shore when we're too fat to do anything else. We're NOT strong for labor for labor's sake, and we DON'T like to live cheaply.

AND, HOLY MACKEREL, WHY SHOULD WE?

Why should MAN the noblest work of God get less real fun out of life than a hairy caterpillar?

THAT'S what I think. And if you hear a Loud Noise and see the TRIBUNE roof heavin' up some of these days it'll be Jerry saying what she REALLY thinks about Foreign Fretters. Only if I do I hope that some of you'll stand ready to offer me a pay envelope. For I surely will be out of luck like all the rest of the natives.

Geraldine

RICMHOND HOTEL MEN NABBED IN BOOTLEG RAIDS

Brandy Found in Hostelries Is Charge; Suspects Granted Bail.

RICHMOND, Feb. 21.—Three Richmond hotel keepers are under arrest as the result of the first raids conducted by the police under the new prohibition ordinance adopted by the city council a week ago, making violations of the federal prohibition act a misdemeanor in this city.

The men arrested in the raids which were made Saturday evening were: Ralph Bias, Hunters' Home, 10 Standard avenue; S. Calandra, Colombo hotel, 100 Standard avenue; Charles Prince, Pullman hotel, Pullman avenue and South street. The men were released on $250 bail each pending trial.

According to the police a small quantity of jackass brandy was found in each place. At the Hunters' Home, the liquor was found behind the bar, the police say; at the Colombo hotel it was in the dining-room, and at the Pullman hotel in a storeroom.

Wilson Russ Policy Is Lauded by Davis

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21. — The Wilson administration's policy with regard to Russia will be vindicated when a responsible government is established in that country and will result in Americans obtaining a vast amount of Russian trade, Under Secretary of State Davis predicted before the House foreign affairs committee. Davis told the committee that two-thirds of Russia did not recognize the Bolsheviki and that only 600,000 Russians were professed communists.

Discussing Great Britain's Russian policy, Davis said the idea that that country by entering into a trade agreement with the Lenine government would gobble up Russian markets was "all bunk." England, he added, is attempting to stop the spread of Bolshevism rather than increase its trade opportunities.

Davis said it would be a mistake for American firms to accept Russian gold, the title of which is in doubt, because with this gold gone a stable government later would be unable to establish credit for the purchase of supplies needed for rehabilitation of the country.

China Asks Apology for Sinking of Boat

PEKING, Feb. 21.—The Chinese government has demanded an apology from Japan for the sinking last June of a Chinese craft by fire from a Japanese gunboat in the Amur river, shortly after the Nikolaevsk massacre.

According to Chinese naval department reports, the Chinese boat, manned by one naval officer, four marines and forty-four workmen, was sent out by the Chinese gunboat lying in the Amur to cut wood for fuel. On its return at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, a Japanese gunboat was sighted. The Chinese craft dropped anchor and ran up the Chinese flag.

The Japanese gunboat opened fire and seven shots hit the hull. The boat was partially submerged in shallow water and thirty-four workmen were killed by gunfire or drowned in efforts to get to shore.

Archbishop Hanna Gives Rosary Sermon

ALAMEDA, Feb. 21.—Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco delivered a rosary sermon and gave Benediction at the evening services in St. Joseph's Catholic church last night. He was assisted by Rev. Father Francis X. Morrison of St. Frances de Sales' church, Oakland.

Archbishop Hanna made a special plea that the members of St. Joseph's parish continue to make efforts toward raising the necessary funds to construct a large parish school at St. Joseph's, emphasizing the value of such an institution to the present and future generations.

UTAH BANK ROBBED

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 21. — Several thousand dollars worth of Liberty bonds and an undetermined amount of cash was stolen from the broken safe of the Grantsville Bank at Grantsville, Utah, Saturday night or Sunday, it was discovered today.

L. A. Police Hold Three Oakland Gang Suspects

Capture in Los Angeles of three more alleged members of the "Thirty Strong" gang of Oakland in the taking of Frank Myers, Le Roy Combs and R. M. Waldo, charged with highway robbery in this county, was announced by Sheriff Frank Barnet today.

Deputy Sheriff Martin Ryan has just notified Barnet that two of the men were turned over to the Federal authorities but that he has the other in custody and will bring him here.

Myers, alias Brennen, Combs and Waldo, are charged with hiring an automobile in Oakland about a week ago, driving into the country and with beating and robbing the driver.

Ryan in a long-distance telephone conversation with Barnet, said that when he arrested one of the men he had on him a watch belonging to a man who had been robbed in Lancaster, Los Angeles county.

J. A. Sullivan, another alleged member of the "Thirty Strong," was taken to Centerville today to have his preliminary hearing postponed to Monday. Deputy District Attorney Frank M. Shay and Deputy Sheriffs Joe Soares and Jack Collier represented the prosecution.

Coast Flier Ready for Record Flight to N. Y.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—An attempt to mark a new epoch in aerial transportation will be made here tomorrow when a mail airplane piloted by Farr Nutter will leave either the Marina field here or the airdome at Richmond, bound across the continent. An endeavor will be made to make the trip in 24 consecutive hours.

At the same time other planes will leave New York and San Diego on a similar flight. The pilot who will attempt to fly his plane from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast is not known. The San Diego planes will be piloted by Lieut. William H. Coney and Eric Springer.

The plane leaving San Francisco has New York as its objective. The plane leaving New York will fly to San Francisco, and those leaving San Diego will lay a course for Jacksonville, Florida.

The San Francisco plane will take off at 4 o'clock tomorrow morning. The point of departure will be either the Marina field, or, if it is foggy, the Richmond airdome. A plane will be kept in readiness at each point and the weather will determine which is to be used. Pilot Nutter will fly as far as Reno where the special bag of mail he carries will be placed in another ship and rushed eastward. By relays the mail will be carried throughout the day and night until New York City is reached.

Starting from New York at the same hour a special pouch will be rushed westward. From Salt Lake City, the eastern terminal of the Pacific divison of the air mail service, Pilot E. E. Mouton will bring the sack to Reno where Pilot Nutter will take it in charge and fly back to this city. Mechanics with flares and other devices to light a field at night will await his coming at the Marina and at Richmond.

Lieutenant Coney will take off from San Diego at 6 p. m. today. He will fly a specially built De Haviland with gasoline capacity of 294 gallons. The second machine to leave San Diego will be the new Davis "Cloudster." This craft is soon to be tried out by the government, it is understood, and has a speed of 130 miles an hour.

20-YEARS' LOVE VIGIL BARED IN $400,000 SUIT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 21.—Echoes of a 20-year romance were heard in the federal district court here today in the trial of the suit of Miss Molly Quirk, Milwaukee, woman, for a $400,000 share in the estate of the late Patrick Kallaher, wealthy Memphis man who, according to Miss Quirk, was under promise to bequeath her his fortune in return for her promise not to wed during his life time. Miss Quirk said Kallaher won her promise to marry him in 1892 while she was a student in Milwaukee.

At that time Miss Quirk was 16 years old and Kallaher 22. Parental objections prevented the marriage, Miss Quirk explained, but during the twenty years that intervened until Kallaher's death in 1913 their courtship was mutual. Neither married. During the long illness preceding his death Miss Quirk nursed him.

North California Wins Orange Prizes

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 21.—Northern California was awarded the highest honors on quality of Washington navel oranges at the national orange show when the Lindsay display of the American Fruit Growers took first place in the navel sweepstakes. It was the first time in a number of years southern California lost the prize. East Highlands' display of the same company was awarded second and Rialto third. On lemons the Upland Lemon Growers' association was awarded first, Riverside Chamber of Commerce second and Highland Chamber of Commerce third. On grapefruit sweepstakes American Fruit Growers, East Highland, took first, Lindsay second and Riverside Chamber of Commerce third.

Highest award on Valencias went to Riverside Chamber of Commerce and second prize to Lindsay.

Feature display prizes were: By Chamber of Commerce, without mechanical action: Fresno first, Riverside second, Pasadena third; with mechanical action: San Gabriel valley, first; Redlands second, San Diego third, Orange county fourth, Ontario fifth. By fruit marketing corporations: California Fruit Growers' exchange first, American Fruit Growers second, Elephant Orchards of Redlands third.

Prayer Books On Ships Held Poor Business Getter

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Soft drinks, prayer books and hymnals in the saloons of American ships won't fill the passenger lists, E. F. Blaine of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, asserted today at the shipping board conference on trade routes to the Orient.

"I am not a drinking man myself," Blaine said, "but I would not go on a long trip on the high seas in a dry vessel, and there are lots of other Americans who feel the same way, so something must be done."

Japanese and British interests are putting bigger and faster ships into service from Vancouver to the Far East, Blaine said, and the "board must not only call, but has got to raise once in a while," in the game for passenger traffic if it wants Americans to patronize American ships.

James A. Enery for the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, agreed with Blaine as to liquor, with the qualification that "the ships ought to be dry, but not necessarily the passengers."

San Francisco, Enery argued, should be considered a national port, as it is "the primary gateway of the Pacific."

R. R. Armstrong, Los Angeles, asked that all the ports of the Pacific be developed equally to avoid congestion. The conference committee took under advisement the distribution of the eleven new 535-foot combination cargo and passenger ships.

CUSTOMS CHIEF SAILS TO JAPAN, FORGETS PERMIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—The law is the law for high officials or the meanest plebian, and for that reason Collector of Customs J. O. Davis, who sailed Thursday on the liner Nanking for Japan, will have to get off the vessel at Honolulu and obtain the "sailing permit" which he failed to obtain when he sailed from here.

When clerks checked up the passenger list of the Nanking it was discovered that Davis, himself a stickler for proper procedure, had sailed without the proper permit.

He was scolded for his negligence by wireless, and as a result he will have to obtain the permit at Honolulu before he can go on to Japan.

Germany Accuses Chemical Experts

COLOGNE, Feb. 21.—Warrants have been issued for the apprehension of four chemical and dye experts formerly employed by Friedrich Bayer & Co. of Leverskursen, charging breach of contract and betrayal of commercial secrets. They are Drs. Joseph Flachslander, Heinrich Jordan, Otto Runge and Max Englemann.

They are charged with signing contracts with the Du Pont de Nemours Company of Wilmington, Del., which bind them to enter the company's employ and also place at its disposal valuable considerations.

They are also charged with "illegally appropriating valuable recipes, formulas, etc., to which they had access."

A Dr. Kunze of Zurich, representing the American company, is said to have made the arrangements with the four experts and is reported to have been instrumental in securing the transit across the German-Dutch frontier of a trunk containing documents, drawings and other scientific material. Dutch authorities discovered the trunk.

MAIL BOAT SAFE.

SEATTLE, Feb. 21.—The powered mail boat Venus, long overdue at Unga, Alaska, has arrived there, according to word received here from the north today. The vessel left Kodiak February 3 and encountered heavy gales. The Venus operates between Seward and Dutch Harbor and is under charter to Dr. Andrew C. Smith of Portland, who is using it to take the place of the Joseph Pulitzer, recently wrecked.

A Successful Man

Among the notable professional men of this country who achieved great success along strictly legitimate lines was Dr. R. V. Pierce. Devoting his attention to the specialty of women's diseases, he became a recognized authority in that line. His work, "The Common Sense Medical Advisor," is now in three million homes in this country and Europe. At one time Dr. Pierce represented his home district in Congress.

Fifty years ago last winter, this noted physician gave to the world a Prescription which has never been equalled for the weaknesses of women. Many women in every hamlet, town or city will gladly testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription did them a world of good.

Another of this great physician's successful remedies is known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and, like the "Prescription," is now sold by druggists everywhere, in both liquid and tablets. The list of men and women all over the universe who have successfully used it for indigestion and as a blood tonic and system builder, makes an amazing total of thousands.

If you desire a cloth-bound copy of a new edition of the "Medical Adviser" by Dr. Pierce, send one dollar to the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. It is a book of 1000 pages of ready reference. For those not within easy reach of professional aid at critical times, and in case of emergency or dangerous accidents, it is invaluable.

M'KINNON ESTATE FIGHT CONTINUES; NEW PLEA FILED

Heirs of Late Water Magnate Ask Property Be Turned Over to Trust Firm.

The fight of heirs to the estate of William H. McKinnon, water magnate, for control of the property that was not deeded to the widow before McKinnon's death continued before Superior Judge E. C. Robinson today, when Attorney John S. DeLancey, representing William H. McKinnon Jr. and Mrs. Frances Hall, a daughter, applied for an order directing the administrator to place all personal property and such other as is possible in the hands of a trust company.

This, it was stated, was a preliminary move looking to a reduction of the bond of $200,000 fixed by Judge Robinson for the three administrators when the two aforementioned and the eldest son, George G. McKinnon were appointed joint administrators. The latter filed his bond, but the others were unable to secure one and did not qualify. This was followed by a demand on the part of Attorneys Donahue and Hynes, representing George G. McKinnon, that DeLancey and his clients turn over $50,000 worth of securities alleged to have been withheld by them. This was done several days ago.

Attorney W. H. L. Hynes today attacked the constitutionality of the bank act under which an order turning over the property to a trust company was sought. Judge Robinson said he was personally of the opinion that the act is unconstitutional, as he had investigated the matter sometime ago, but that if DeLancey had any authorities on the matter he was willing to give him time to produce them. The matter was continued a week for this purpose.

This leaves George G. McKinnon in control of the estate, as he is the only administrator who has qualified.

McKinnon declares that DeLancey's statement about a $30,000 note alleged to have been given by the father to George G. McKinnon refers to a note that was to have been given for a half interest in an estate connected with two incompetent boys. He claims the matter was settled in another manner and that the canceled check for the payment made by the father in settlement of all obligation is still in existence.

Vengeance Against Husband Pledged

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 21. — Ira Reese was shot and instantly killed here this morning by his brother-in-law, George Thompson, 48, because the latter charged Reese criminally assaulted Thompson's young daughter. Thompson surrendered to the police immediately. Reese was acquitted last week of the charge of assaulting Thompson's daughter. The girl's father said he would see that justice was done.

After the shooting, which occurred at Thompson's home, Mrs. Thompson, Reese's sister, kissed the dead body of her brother and vowed vengeance on her husband. She was arrested.

Minister Indicted for Manslaughter

SANDWICH, Ont., Feb. 21. — A true bill charging Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin with manslaughter as the result of the killing last November of Beverly Trumbull, an inn keeper, was returned by the grand jury this afternoon.

Spracklin shot and killed Trumbull while acting as a liquor license inspector.

Crude Oil Prices Take Another Drop

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 21.—The principal purchasing companies today announced a further reduction ranging from 15 cents to 50 cents in the price of crude oil. The quotations are Pennsylvania grade crude $3.25, Cabell $1.96, Somerset $1.75, Somerset Light $2, Ragland $1.

G. A. R. EX-LEADER DIES

BOSTON, Feb. 21.—J. E. Gilman, past commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, died today. He was born here in 1844. He participated in many important civil war battles, losing his right arm at Gettysburg. He was elected commander-in-chief of the G. A. R. in 1910.

It's Not a Crime To Be Thin, But---

It's really embarrassing to be so thin that people speak of you as being "skinny." After all, it's not necessary to be either thin, weak or anemic. Most any man or woman who wants to put on flesh, increase strength, endurance and vitality—can do it in a few weeks by getting a package of Blood-Iron Phosphate from Owl Drug Co., or any other good druggist, and taking as directed. This increases the red blood cells, strengthens the nervous system and thus helps to quickly overcome those troubles, such as thinness, anemia, neurasthenia, sleeplessness and physical weakness due to or accompanied by impoverished blood and weak nerves. Blood-Iron Phosphate costs only $1.50 for a three weeks' treatment, and is so genuinely good that the druggist of whom you buy it is authorized to refund the full price to you if you are dissatisfied. Better get Blood-Iron Phosphate and begin its use today.—Advertisement.

Washing Won't Rid Head Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

TWENTY INJURED AROUND BAY IN AUTO MISHAPS

Six in Serious Condition As Result of Injuries in Sunday Accidents.

Nineteen persons of the bay region today are suffering from injuries sustained in automobile accidents over Sunday. At least six of the injured are in a serious condition and two are not expected to recover.

The injured:

ITARO HARADA, a Japanese, 244 Walsworth avenue; internal injuries and a fractured skull; probably fatally hurt.

BAXTER STEFFNER, 19 years old, residing at 1823 Encinal avenue, Alameda; fractured skull, fractured right leg, several broken ribs. His condition is critical.

WALTER PRITCHARD, a mail carrier of Alameda; two broken ribs and bruises about the head and body.

JOHN PIERSON, Southern Pacific station agent at Giant station; possible fracture of the skull. His condition is serious.

MRS. JOHN PIERSON, bruises and lacerations.

MRS. MARGARET KELLIE, 1124 De Haro street, San Francisco; fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries. Her condition is serious.

MARY SCOTT, 1637 Eighteenth street, San Francisco; lacerations and bruises.

MRS. BESSIE DAVENPORT, 3799 Army street, San Francisco; cut by flying glass.

ETHEL SCOTT, 513 Dolores street, San Francisco; cuts and bruises.

ALEXANDER KELLIE, 1124 De Haro street, San Francisco; broken right shoulder.

LAWRENCE SULLIVAN, 3878 Twenty-third street, San Francisco; abrasions of the forehead and lacerations about the face.

GEORGE PEACOCK, 515 Turk street, San Francisco; broken nose and fractured right leg.

BRUCE O'BRIEN, 1248 Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco; severe lacerations of the face and body.

THOMAS K. STERRITT, 2414 Fulton street, San Francisco; lacerations of the face and contusions of the body.

WILLIAM T. UPTON, 2800 San Bruno avenue, San Francisco; possible fracture of the skull.

CARL BERGSTROM, 1180 Eighth street; fractured right leg.

THOMAS V. GOLDRICH, same address; bruises and lacerations.

ARTHUR H. LUND, 1425 Second avenue; bruised about the head and body.

HENRY HOUSCHILDT, deputy city marshal of San Leandro; possible fractured skull, severe cuts and bruises about the head and face and injuries to the back and right hip. He is in a serious condition.

FRANK SILVA, 1389 C street; badly cut and bruised.

BICYCLE RIDER SERIOUSLY HURT.

Thrown violently to the pavement when the bicycle on which he was riding collided with an automobile driven by Daniel Heffron, 460 Vernon street, Harada was perhaps fatally injured and is being treated today at the emergency hospital. According to Heffron, Harada turned directly in front of his machine as he was turning the corner at Vernon street and Walsworth avenue.

Steffner and Pritchard were injured when the motorcycle with a side car driven by the latter collided with an automobile driven by Theodore Hamm, 2241 Santa Clara avenue, Alameda, at Woolsworth and Santa Clara avenues. Both were taken to the Alameda sanatorium. It is believed today that Steffner's injuries may prove fatal, but his companion was not seriously hurt. Pritchard was instructing Steffner in driving the motorcycle when the accident occurred.

Mr. and Mrs. Pierson were injured when their automobile was struck by a train near Giant station, near Richmond yesterday afternoon. They were taken to the Abbott emergency hospital, Richmond. Pierson was backing his car out of his garage, which is located almost on the railroad tracks, when the smashup occurred. The machine was wrecked and both Pierson and his wife were thrown several feet. They were picked up and sent to the hospital by members of the train crew.

TWO MACHINES FIGURE IN SMASH.

The Kellies and Sullivan were injured when two machines collided at Twenty-second street and Potrero avenue, San Francisco, last night. McCafferty was the driver of the other machine. In his car were six men, only one of whom was injured —Sullivan. While crossing Mission street near Sixteenth, San Francisco, George Peacock was hit by a jitney bus driven by Frank Terreault, 47 Winfield avenue, San Francisco. O'Brien was struck by a jitney bus at Fourth and Market streets, San Francisco. The bus stopped and when O'Brien picked himself up it proceeded without offering to lend assistance.

In an automobile with T. J. Lenahan, 4278 Twenty-fifth street, Mary and Ethel Scott were slightly injured when the car collided with a machine driven by M. Morris, 130 Eleventh avenue, San Francisco. The accident occurred at the Eighth avenue entrance to Golden Gate park in that city. Sterritt was injured when the machine in which he was riding collided with an automobile at McAllister and Franklin streets, San Francisco. The other car was driven by Frank Coss, 459 Franklin street, that city.

WOMAN HURT WHEN STRUCK.

Mrs. Bessie Davenport was struck by an automobile driven by Lewis Barelle, 2901 San Bruno avenue. Upton was injured in another collission at Eleventh and Mission streets, San Francisco.

Struck by a high-powered automobile that dashed away in the darkness without stopping to render aid, Bergstrom, Goldrich and Lund, all of Oakland, were injured in Hayward yesterday afternoon. They were guests of the Hayward post of the American Legion. Deputy Sheriff Joseph Soares of Hayward today began an investigation of the accident in an effort to apprehend the occupants of the automobile.

Houschildt was run down by an automobile early yesterday morning driven by A. L. Hagsell, 173 Grand avenue, Oakland. The accident occurred at East Fourteenth street and Cambridge avenue, San Leandro. Investigation today disclosed, according to police, that Hagsell was driving on the wrong side of the street and failed to see the officer who was waiting for a street car.

Frank Silva of 1389 C street, Hayward, was badly scratched and bruised when a street car hit his automobile at Marin and San Pablo avenues last night. Silva was treated at the emergency hospital and was then taken home. He had suffered lacerations of the right jaw, of the forehead, of the left hand and of the right and left leg. Silva was taken to the hospital by Joe Cabral of 789 Sixth street.

News of the Churches

FIRST UNITARIAN

"There has been a great awakening in the liberal churches through the increased interest of men in religion," declared Carl B. Wetherell of Boston, field secretary of the Laymen's League, in the First Unitarian church yesterday morning. His subject was "The Challenge to Religious Liberals."

"A liberal church is especially needed in our country," he continued. "It is needed by the individual for, just as man has demanded and secured freedom in his political, social and economic life, so will he demand and secure freedom in his religious life.

"Every man, woman and child needs not only to develop loyalty to his country, to his brother man, and to God, but also every person must come to think out the great problems of life itself without any religious or theological prejudices, creeds or personal authorities to hamper him.

"The 60,000,000 unchurched people in this country are the persons we are especially anxious to reach. When a man thinks for himself religiously, as he thinks for himself in business and in his home; when he thinks things through for, of, and by himself—then the liberal church will come into its own.

"This is the challenge—a truly wonderful adventure, full of hazard, full of pitfalls, but well worth all the sacrifices of the past, all the attacks of the present, and all the joys of the future. We ought to act as well as preach the brotherhood of man."

PLYMOUTH CONGREGATIONAL

"Sabbath desecration in the form of labor, amusements and dissipation is an exceedingly live threat in modern church life," said Rev. Charles L. Kloss, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, in a sermon yesterday concerning the proposed "blue laws."

"The misuse of the day by church people is more of a menace than the open theater, the ball game and the Sunday picnic," he continued. "The desecration of the day is so alarming, the encroachments upon worship so devastating, the increasing threat of greed and pleasure so great that it is high time the church reaffirmed Christ's idea of Sunday.

"A thousand years before Abraham, the Chaldeans had a rest day. The leisure of the day was spent in social festivity. It was a day of gladness, though there were severe penalties for labor. Picking up sticks on the Sabbath was punishable by death. Christ broke sharply with these early Puritans. His practice was to go to the synagogue while the rest of the day He ate, walked through the fields, talked with His disciples and did works of healing.

"I am not in favor of a revival of the "blue laws" to hedge about Sunday, but I would far rather have a blue Sunday than a yellow one of dissipation and revelry. I would rather have the bluest kind of a "blue" Sunday than a "red" one of anarchy and anti-Christian teaching.

"There are 800,000 children gathered together in New York every Sunday to be taught anarchy and socialism and nothing else. There are more thus taught than there are in New York's Sunday schools.

"The average open-air Sunday game is not bad but good, but it can be overdone to the exclusion of worship and other vital things. Perhaps you can worship God in the hills but you probably won't. A Sabbath given over to excursions, sports and amusements paralyzes higher things."

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

"The too common practice of today is to attach reservations to the divine commands," said Rev. F. M. Silsley, preaching yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church on the subject, "Losing Your Kingdom."

"King Saul was a man who began like a glorious mountain, and terminated like a slime pit because he put reservations to the orders of God, and we are applying reservations to the will of God as to Christ today.

"There is entirely too much accepting Christ with reservations. The practice is too common of accepting the deity of Christ, but making reservations as to His miraculous power and miracles. There is too much practice of accepting the love of God, but doubting His justice and attaching a reservation to His doctrine of retribution. And as to the moral commandments of God, there is also too much of the habit of reservation.

"We are told to have no other gods before us, and yet how often we build a shrine to education, money or success. We are commanded not to take the name of the Lord in vain, and yet how often we make the sunshine dance with profanity.

"We are commanded to keep the Sabbath day holy, but we so hedge it about with hiking reservations and week-end reservations and Sunday amusement reservations that Sunday has become a 'No-man's-land.'

"We are commanded not to bear false witness, and yet how many in our city are really Ananiases, doubting the word of God, and twisting the truth in the every day doings of life.

"We need a revival that will bring us back to the commandments of God, and a conscience for his complete and perfect will. There is grave danger in keeping the commandments with reservations. Saul lost his kingdom and many people today are losing their kindom because they are not squaring up to their responsibilities."

ST. ELIZABETH'S CATHOLIC

"From the Manger to the Cross," a moving picture taken in the Holy Land, and tracing the life of Christ, was presented last night in St. Elibabeth's Catholic church. The production was in six parts, portraying some of the most famous incidents in Christ's life, including the miracles, the betrayal, the crucifixion and death. The scenes are said to be taken in authentic locations, and elaborate costuming and scenic effects characterized the production throughout.

EXTRACTS UNDER FEDERAL BAN IF FIT FOR DRINK

Have you been getting yours at the grocery?

Or was it by ways of the bottlers?

In any event that's off now. The officials have caught on.

It appears that makers of flavoring, including soda-water flavoring, have been permitted to obtain alcohol for their extracts by naming the per cent and the kind of flavoring.

Now there has gone out word that Washington must have the complete formula, or at least as much of it as the maker believes makes his product unfit for straight beverage purposes, as well.

The reason is that bottles labeled "brandy flavor" and "rum flavor" and "whisky flavor" have been for sale, and the government doesn't like the idea, nor what it may cover.

A letter advising flavor makers of the demand for their formulas has gone out to all members of the Extract Manufacturers' Association from Thomas E. Lannen, the secretary.

Furs Are Offered At Auction by U. S.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 21.—The United States government offered 10,000 Alaska sealskins, 901 blue fox and thirty-seven white fox pelts at the International Fur Exchange's winter auction which opened today. Representative of 450 firms, the largest list of buyers in the exchange's history were present. Secretary of Commerce Alexander and H. M. Smith, commissioner of fisheries, represented the government.

CRAGMONT CLUB WANTS BARRING OF APARTMENTS

BERKELEY, Feb. 21.—No imposing apartment houses will form the sky-line in the Cragmont section recently annexed to Berkeley, if residents of that region have their way.

Resolutions have been forwarded to the council by the Cragmont Improvement Club calling upon the city officials to place the entire district in strictly residential classification under the zone ordinance. Action was taken at a mass meeting of property holders following information reaching residents that plans were under way for the erection of apartment buildings.

Six apartment houses already built and one under construction were exempted by the club in asking for the zoning of the district. The classification asked by the club would also bar flats from the hill region.

Opposition to the views of the club have been voiced by H. H. Gastman and George W. Rodehaver, who urged that apartments and flats be allowed. C. W. Whitney is president of the club, while among those who urged the restricting of buildings were Kellogg Van Winkle, C. E. Horton, and C. W. Pugh and will present the resolutions to the council.

Girl Tells of Alleged Attack by Baker

That J. W. Nickesell, proprietor of a San Pablo-avenue bakery, worked an "employment trap" on a 17-year-old girl, and after hiring her, attacked her in one of the rooms of his establishment, was the statement made by Ruth Bernice Ashford, the victim, on the witness stand before Superior Judge Lincoln S. Church.

Nickesell is being tried on the charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Dr. Edwin F. Jones gave testimony against Nickesell.

The girl told a tale of unemployment, described how she answered an advertisement and was hired at $2 a day in the bakery, and how Nickelsell then attacked her in October. The girl said that after she had worked for Nickesell for a time he gave her a half-interest in his business.

Haberdasher Is Sued for $10,500 Damages

Damages of $10,500 against David Stone, haberdasher of 4705 E. Fourteenth street for false arrest on a bad check charge, is asked in a suit brought before Judge J. G. Quinn by Harry J. Holmes.

Holmes charges that Stone caused him to be arrested charged with issuing a fictitious check on April 22 and that on May 7 he was released by Judge Samuels for insufficiency of evidence. He says he was damaged to the extent of $10,500.

A Fuel That Gives You All It Has To Give

As yet, man has not devised a means of utilizing all the heat value of any fuel, but in this direction he has gone much farther with GAS than with any other fuel.

At the touch of the match the gas stove is at full heat, ready instantly to do the work. Heat, and that means fuel, is not going up the chimney or being radiated through the sides, bottom and top of the stove while the range is getting hot enough to do the cooking.

OVENS OF THE MODERN RANGES ARE SO INSULATED THAT PRACTICALLY ALL HEAT IS ACCUMULATED INSIDE READY TO BE UTILIZED FOR COOKING.

Considered from the standpoint of efficiency, the gas range furnishes the best equipment for the kitchen. The use of gas brings with it cleanliness, comfort and convenience. It saves energy, time and temper. It is always ready on the instant. It takes up less room than any other form of heating or cooking apparatus. It saves time in building fires, in cleaning grates, and there is no time or labor used in bringing in fuel.

The economies worked by gas in the kitchen are repeated in the many heating devices in which gas is used in the up-to-date home. The gas log, the gas radiator, the gas water heater, are well-known everywhere.

There is also the gas-heated laundry equipment, including washers, mangles and dry-rooms, all of which are made on a scale suitable for ordinary homes and add to the domestic efficiency in the same manner as GAS makes easy work of the kitchen.

All household drudgery is done away with. Push a button or strike a match and your fuel energy is there, at your command, your modern Slave of the Lamp.
It's efficient, available and economical.

ALICE GENTLE TO SING AT HOTEL OAKLAND CONCERT

Benefit for Europe's Orphans Has Numerous Attractions of Exceptional Interest

The next big event in the campaign for the alleviation of suffering and the saving from death by starvation of upward of 3,000,000 children of Central Europe is the benefit entertainment to be given at the Hotel Oakland in the main ballroom Thursday evening. The show is the donation of Oliver Kehrlein of the Kinema and Franklin theaters [illegible] co-operating stars and the motion picture operators' organization.

The first presentation of Winston Churchill's celebrated novel "The Inside of the Cup," dramatized for the movies, the singing of Alice Gentle, music by the University of California jazz band, singing by the University Glee club, forty strong, and several other attractions now under negotiation will make up one of the most notable programs produced for charity. The presence of Alice Gentle is made possible through the co-operation of [illegible] M. Arthur of Ye Liberty theater.

MORE PATRONESSES

The following names have been added to the list of patronesses: Mrs. Frederick J. Laird, Mrs. Edward Hough, Mrs. Charles J. Tabot, Mrs. Charles Nelson, Mrs. William Robson, Mrs. Katherine Welch, Mrs. J. P. H. Dunn, Mrs. George Jensen, Mrs. M. Amann, Mrs. P. J. Kramer, Mrs. A. C. Posey, Mrs. Minna McGauley, Mrs. I. Harrison Clay, Mrs. Dalelba Thomson, Mrs. C. H. King, Mrs. Ernest Tanner, Mrs. T. C. Cooper, Mrs. J. J. Richards, Mrs. Isaac Requa, Mrs. Wiggington Creed, Mrs. Oscar Sutro, Mrs. C. C. Clay and Mrs. John B. Mhoon.

Saturday will be tag day in Oakland between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. Everyone in the city will be expected to wear a tag as an outward expression that he has done something to save these little ones from starvation. Responding to an invitation sent out by A. P. [illegible], Miss M. Gilchrist and Miss Lorraine McLean of the University of California Y. W. C. A. will place 23 teams of six girls each at the disposal of the committee. [illegible] has also communicated with the presidents of the various women's clubs asking their co-operation.

Arrangements have been made with the banks of Oakland to display cards in their windows announcing that contributions toward the cause will be received and credited there. This will [illegible] the necessity of mailing the donation or bringing it in person to the [illegible] quarters in the Chamber of Commerce.

The sum of $3648 was realized from the Starvation Dinner at which plates were sold for $10 each last Saturday night. Of this sum $3508 was recorded from the sale of tickets and gifts and $140 from subscriptions before the tickets were printed. One ticket purchased by Mrs. Wallace Alexander brought $500. Three tickets sold for $100 each, one for $75 and 152 for $10 each. A. Jonas wired from Roseburg, Ore., en route to Portland, for a reservation. Dr. Aurelia H. Reinhardt, president of Mills College, unable to be present, made a reservation. The Men's League of the Congregational Church made two reservations.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

ORPHEUM

When the stage crew stands in the wings to watch an act, and when the orchestra sits up and takes notice, and when the ushers pause to look on, when all these things occur then a rare tribute is being paid to the artists on the stage.

This is just what happened at the Oakland Orpheum at the matinee yesterday when Claud and Fannie Usher offered their new playlet, "The Bide-a-Wee Home." It is even safe to hazard a guess that the guardian of the outer portals of the stage door even forsook his post to come in and watch this lovable [illegible]. The new offering is the best that the Ushers have ever presented, and when their twelve years of touring the Orpheum circuit are taken into consideration this means more than empty words. There are heart throbs in the act and there is a world of wholesome comedy in the characterization of the sweet waif that is presented by Fannie Usher. "The Bide-a-Wee Home" is just another reason why [illegible] should be made [illegible] this week.

Mildred [illegible] and four most likable young chaps have a dance routine billed under the title of "Step Lively," and this is just exactly what they do. For short speed couple [illegible] with grace and artistry their offering is in a class by itself.

Then there is J. C. Nugent. Nugent is the king of laughter and his new line of droll comedy patter offered yesterday afternoon left the audience insistently demanding more. Such laughs as Nugent can inspire are better than all the tonics in the world. They are the kind that would make even a "blue law" Sunday a day of joy.

Dora Hilton, an exceptionally beautiful girl with a well trained voice of [illegible], was more than pleasing. Kenny and Hollis, whose offering is a light, [illegible] inspired man [illegible], laugh, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Wilde, with Cornie Wilde, have a pleasing novelty in their "Shadowgraphs." Oakes and Delour, expert dancers, contribute a neat and entertaining dancing act, one that was well liked. Three films and a musical program are included in the excellent entertainment.

YE LIBERTY

Lew [illegible] Clair has returned to Oakland to spend the holidays according to his advertisements, and judging from the performance he gave yesterday afternoon at Ye Liberty Playhouse, Oakland has cause to rejoice that the amiable comedian has returned. Clair is no stranger to the patrons of musical comedy in this city, but during his absence he has broadened out and developed into a performer of unusual ability.

Clair is featuring himself at the head of a company of thirty-five in the 1920 Revue of Revues, a colorful offering in which uniqueness is the feature and comedy the outstanding talking point. Clair himself is funnier than ever before and he has shown wisdom in his selection of a supporting company in that each one is an artist in his or her particular line, with the result that an almost faultless performance was given.

Next Friday evening, however, will be devoted to Irvin S. Cobb, who comes to this city to repeat his lecturing success of last season. Cobb has a new and very fertile subject in "Home Folks," one that permits him to roam about at leisure describing anything that his fancy seizes upon.

On next Sunday afternoon "Way Down East," the David Wark Griffith picture, will come in for a week's run. This will be the final showing of the picture in this city and the engagement is limited to one week because of the scheduled opening of Alice Gentle in "The Rose of the Rancho" for the following Sunday afternoon.

KINEMA

Money versus the finer qualities of love and human nature furnishes the motif of the story of "Paying the Piper," the lavish new George Fitzmaurice production which is playing at the Kinema.

"Paying the Piper" introduces a new screen beauty in the person of Dorothy Dickson, a New York dancer, who appears as Barbara Wyndham, daughter of wealthy parents, who marries "for convenience" just before her parents' fortunes and the fortunes of the man she married were swept away.

Fitzmaurice has brought out decided contrasts and has created a masterly love story of the poor little society butterfly and her fight with a world she knows nothing of.

How she is helped by a girl she should have expected nothing but hatred from, and how she learns that happiness sometimes comes to those in lowly stations, furnishes the base of the story.

Costly costumes and settings especially designed by the famous French artist and creator of new things, Paul Iribe, will give the picture an especial appeal to women. A few skillfully directed comedy touches and a story of genuine worth make the picture one of Fitzmaurice's finest.

FULTON

With power and emphasis George M. Cohan has driven home a lot of mighty interesting truths in "The House of Glass," which opened at the Fulton theater yesterday, and incidentally he has sprinkled it with a lot of George M. Cohan sugar plums of wit that make it one of the finest things on the stage.

Two big audiences sat for three hours enthralled by the power of Cohan's pen, watching the story of "Mrs. Lake" unfold bit by bit and incident by incident until its climax came. "Mrs. Lake" is the lady who lives in the house of glass. Through the walls of that house she sees the authorities of the law reach out for her and they in turn peer through that house of glass and find the lady for whom they look. That means a strenuous search and a series of thrilling moments in the life of Mrs. Lake.

The audience watches that hunt and sees the heartstrings of the woman torn repeatedly and sees her suspense and sees her [illegible] bill [illegible], but her is the bustle and hum of commonplace life and the tang of wit and the interest that comes in the battle for position and money and social prestige in this world.

Katherine Van Buren is the woman, and splendidly does she portray this hunted creature. Paul Harvey is her husband, a railroad man of the West and a successful man. She has been his stenographer and they married without any knowledge on his part of her past life. That past life included a term in prison for a crime of which she was not guilty.

All the Fulton players are in the cast and each has a splendid role. These players include George R. Taylor, John Ivan, Ruth Saville, Marie Stanton, Minnie Sisson, Lee Willard, Al Watson, Richard Ryan and others.

The Fulton theater management announces that an extra holiday matinee will be given on Tuesday afternoon, which is Washington's birthday.

AMERICAN

Replete with thrilling dramatic situations, sensational scenes and episodes and depicting the great open and the life of the sea in a gripping graphic production, William Farnum's new play, "The Scuttlers," is scoring a success this week at the American, where it is the headline feature of a double bill that includes also "The County Fair," Maurice Tourneur's massive adaptation of Neil Burgess' celebrated story.

"The Scuttlers" was written by Clyde Westover, former naval officer of the customs port of San Francisco, and is, it is declared, based on some of the adventures of the local customs forces. Westover, famous as a novelist and playwright, obtained much material during his experiences in the government service. Incidentally, Winifred Westover, noted picture star, is his daughter.

"The County Fair" is a modern "Il Pagliacci" in that it depicts life behind the scenes in a country carnival together with bits of real life outside the tinsel. David Butler, Helen Jerome Eddy and Wesley Barry are seen in the all star cast.

John Wharry Lewis and his orchestra offer an interesting musical setting for the double bill and "Topics of the Day" is an added attraction.

T. & D.

Mack Sennett has again sent the best of his funmakers to tickle the risibilities of Oakland—individually or collectively. "Love, Honor and Behave" at the T. & D. theater is the vehicle. It is Sennett's first comedy of the year for the First National and runs to five full reels of fun.

Ford Sterling, Phyllis Haver, Charles Murray and Marie Provost head the cast. To describe what happens after the first sub-title is to recount a succession of humorous events that only Sennett can build. The semblance of plot creeps in occasionally, but it doesn't appear to disturb the audience to the extent that there is a break in laughs. "Love, Honor and Behave" is a nice tonic for gloom.

Shirley Mason appears in a comedy drama of unusual interest, "The Little Wanderer." The [illegible] quartet is heard in several excellent selections and [illegible] orchestra played two concert numbers yesterday that met favor. "Dynamite," a second comedy on the same bill, will be found enjoyable.

15 MORE SHIPS TO BE ALLOCATED TO PACIFIC PORTS

Shipping Board Hopes to Increase Number, Says Benson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Fifteen vessels will soon be allocated to service between Pacific coast ports and the Orient, Admiral Benson, chairman of the Shipping Board, announced today after hearing claims of coast representatives.

"We hope to increase this number in the future," Benson said.

The apportionment of this number may not satisfy the present needs of each Pacific port, but the board will try to place these ships in a way that will serve the best interests of all the Pacific ports and to give more ships when they are available.

LOEW'S STATE

"The Stealers," William Christy Cabanne's eight-reel photo drama released by Robertson Cole, is a super special and which led the bill at Loew's State theater beginning yesterday, is one of the most unusual and noteworthy pictures of the year. More than 5000 actors are seen in the big scenes and the pictures of an electrical storm at night are thrillingly realistic.

Cabanne's masterpiece, as the picture has been billed, brings something new to the art of the screen. It brings colored titles and some delightfully colored bits of action. This innovation, probably designed to increase the psychological effect of the story, certainly serves its purpose admirably.

The story is based on Divine faith and the potency of true love. "The Stealers" impresses one as a living sermon, elevating and entertaining.

Another feature of the new bill is the appearance of the orchestra in costumes of 1776, powdered wigs and all other details that would do credit to David Belasco. The program is appropriate to Washington's birthday.

The varieties are also very interesting. The Dancing Serenaders, gay minstrels, the Clemenso Brothers, French eccentrics in a comedy act, and Harry Ward and Harriet Raymond in a comedy hit, "Hello." A Sunshine Comedy, "Hold Me Tight," Pathe News and Literary Digest [illegible] pleasant variations at the State this week.

COLUMBIA

Featuring two specialties, a host of musical numbers and comedy in carload quantities, "The Leg of Nations" opened to a packed house at the Columbia theater yesterday afternoon, where Eddie Gilbert handed out laughs with both hands and kept the patrons [illegible] in hysterics for the two hours that the show ran. Undoubtedly "The Leg of Nations" is a speed burner in the comedy race.

There is plenty of novelty in this new girlesquen revue. Gilbert is assisted by an able corps of players, notably Lou Davis, who is working hard every minute and scoring with similar speed. The action of the piece is fast and the musical numbers were offered in a charming manner with attractive costumes and scenic effects to set them off.

Some of the outstanding hits yesterday were "Cryin' for You," a duet by Davis and Hazel Beer; "Broadway Blues," by Davis; an accordeon specialty by the King and Queen of Harmony; "Yokohama Lullaby," by Babette La Rue; "I Love the Land of Old Black Joe," by Vera Knight; "Peachy," by Florence Selby; "I Like It," by Hazel Beer; "The Havanola," a new dance number to the air of "Cuban Moon," by Dorothy Harrison and Hazel Beer, and a banjo specialty by George Bennett.

The show continues for the week with matinees today and Saturday and special nights on Tuesday, Country Store; Thursday, amateurs contest, and Friday, chorus girls contest. There will be a special matinee performance on Tuesday, Washington's birthday.

PANTAGES

George P. Howard, a pleasant, easy going [illegible] and [illegible] fascinating Kitty Ross, whom George calls Kate, walk away with the new bill at Pantages. They are banjoists who get more music out of their instruments than a whole band sometimes offers. Kitty is piquant and charming and handsomely gowned and she plays around in the background and teases her big husband whenever she isn't busy with her own banjo. George is a wizard with his banjo.

"Doll Frolics" is an up-to-date story-book revue in which a wonderful dolly fairy commands two dancing maids, the McKinley sisters, to appear in many dances. They are agile, graceful dancers and their smart costumes add attractiveness. Irene Coolahan is the pianist, and besides the clever accompaniments she adds a diverting and nicely executed piano solo.

"All for Fun" is the title of an act sponsored by Edmond and Wells. Redmond is having his palm read by the charming [illegible] Miss Wells, when [illegible] happens [illegible] [illegible] change is highly original [illegible]. Then they change to [illegible] moods and songs and delight with their novel and eccentric achievements.

The Four Fellhops are a merry group in scarlet coats and dark trousers. They are wizards at leaping and somersaulting, tumbling and balancing. A farcical sketch called "The Petticoat Man" is put on nicely by Baldwin, Blair and company. A mistake in room numbers starts the excitement, with developments of comedy to follow. Novelle Bros. are musical clowns.

Burglars Have Busy Night in Alameda Homes

Complaints of Victims Indicate Much Loot Secured by Same Thieves

ALAMEDA, Feb. 21.—Burglars were extremely active in Alameda over Sunday, according to the number of complaints coming into the police [illegible] [illegible]. As the [illegible] [illegible] were the same [illegible] the police [illegible] but the same [illegible] committed [illegible] the crimes.

C. F. W[illegible], [illegible] Sherman street, reported that his [illegible] had been entered through a [illegible] room window. The place was thoroughly ransacked, but nothing of very great value was taken.

Mrs. Agnes [illegible] avenue reported that a bathroom window had let the burglars into her place. Articles to the value of $20 were taken.

FRANKLIN

Hugh Ford's first picture since returning from abroad gives Ethel Clayton a wide range to display her beauty, charm and talent. It is "The Price of Possession," heading the current Franklin bill.

The story deals with a young woman whose husband [illegible] in Australia meets a [illegible] death. She finds some papers which seem to prove that she is the heir to a vast English estate. The widow sets off for England to prove her rights. When the [illegible] she keeps up her [illegible] to prove her [illegible] and when just [illegible] to come into possession of the documents needed, it [illegible] the [illegible] she is forced to [illegible] her mind [illegible] the man she [illegible] has saved her from drowning after her leap from a window into a moat surrounding the manor house.

Rockliffe Fellowes, well known to screen patrons, plays a dual part in support of Miss Clayton. A comedy [illegible] reel and music complete the bill.

BROADWAY

"The Last of the Mohicans" will be given its [illegible] including presentation on the same program with other features at the Broadway theater today. James Fenimore Cooper's immortal story of a part of American life and visualizing the [illegible] of a great race of Indians, [illegible] ranks with the notable pictures of the day. The [illegible] is unlimited [illegible] [illegible] the Tourneur production is rich in the colorful and exciting events it portrays. An all-star cast presents the characters in "The Last of the Mohicans."

Tomorrow Will Rogers [illegible] in the most humorous of his pictures, "The Guile of Women." Other attractions on the same program include a Chaplin comedy and [illegible] "Sunday Courtship."

CHIMES

The luxurious South Sea Islands mingled with London's [illegible] [illegible] in George Fitzmaurice's latest production, "Idols of Clay," which will show at the Chimes theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Mae Murray and David Powell are the featured players. The story was written by Ouida Bergere.

The central characters are Faith Merrill, a pretty [illegible], living with her father, Jim Merrill, a derelict, and his dissolute partner, Blinky, on an obscure South Sea island. Merrill and Blinky's illicit [illegible] to the natives in return for smuggled pearls. To the island comes Dion Holme, a young sculptor who is drifting around the world in the effort to forget an unfortunate affair with a Lady Cray in London. Faith picks him up half conscious on the beach and under her care not only his health but his considerable talent for work [illegible] return. Later Jim Merrill is killed in a drunken brawl and Dion, completely restored, returns to London to take up his career [illegible].

INDICTMENTS OF FOUR OF BANDIT SUSPECTS ASKED

Decoto Will Go Before the Grand Jury to Urge Charge; Witnesses Called

[illegible] indictments [illegible] of the "Thirty Strong" gang will be asked of the Alameda County Grand Jury by District Attorney Ezra Decoto when it meets in [illegible] Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, according to an announcement made by Decoto today.

The grand jurors will be asked to find true bills against J. A. Sullivan and Larry Fitzgerald in connection with the Alvarado bank and [illegible] robbery and against Frescott, [illegible] and Gladys Fleming for receiving goods stolen in the Alvarado raid.

Indictments will not be asked [illegible] Arthur [illegible], convicts who have already been charged on an information filed by the district attorney with the robbery of the Alvarado bank and who will come up for arraignment in the Superior Court Wednesday.

CITIZENS ARE WITNESSES

Whether evidence sufficient to secure the indictment of Mrs. J. A. (Marion) Sullivan and Mrs. Fleming [illegible] the grand jury will be presented will depend upon their willingness to furnish information to the prosecution, Decoto declared.

Witnesses who have identified Sullivan as the master mind of the "Thirty Strong," who furnished the automobile which was used in the Alvarado holdup, together with documentary evidence of his guilt, will be presented to the grand jurors by the district attorney. Citizens of Alvarado who have sworn that they saw Larry Fitzgerald driving the bandit car will appear for the prosecution.

The evidence against Mrs. Fleming and against [illegible] consists of stolen property said to have been found in their possession when the police and deputy sheriffs raided the house at [illegible] Nineteenth street and the Arden apartments, Fourteenth and Peralta. Mrs. Fleming will also be charged as an accessory in the Alvarado bank robbery in that she concealed Fleming, one of the robbers.

DECOTO IN CHARGE

No indictments will be asked against Spike Jonen or Eddie Fenesan as they have already been held in the police court for the robberies [illegible] Harrison and Vernon, nor against the other prisoners held in the city jail as they are being dealt with by the city authorities, Decoto announced.

The district attorney himself, assisted by Deputies John U. Calkins and Frank M. Shea, will present the case for the state to the grand jury. Decoto said that the prisoners probably will not appear.

Movie Actress Has Marriage Annulled

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—Mrs. Florence Kimmerly, of 348 Madrid street, obtained an annulment of her marriage in Superior Judge Thomas Graham's court today from [illegible] Kimmerly, a civil engineer of Portland, whom she wedded on October 8, 1919. Mrs. Kimmerly is a movie star and until recently had [illegible] the Los Angeles studios. She was formerly the wife of Emil Brady, an actor, from whom she obtained a divorce in March, 1919. Six months after she had wed [illegible] Kimmerly she told Judge Graham today that when she married the second time she had been informed that her wedding with Brady was illegal because she had married him under her stage name of Florence Gordon. As soon as she learned that [illegible] did not excuse her in the eyes of the law she obtained a divorce. Today she was given permission to resume her maiden name of Florence Steinhauser.

Argentine to Make Paper Out of Grass

An interesting development in the paper business is reported from Buenos Aires, where a new pulp industry has been organized. The company will make paper from grass and has set up the first pulp mill in the Argentine at Barranqueras on the [illegible] river. A species of bog grass which grows abundantly is the material. It is estimated that crops of the grass can be grown within an easy area with sufficient rapidity to keep the mill in steady operation. [illegible] of paper pulp, it is said, is to be produced.

Favorite of Late Czar Never to Perform Again, News From Hungary Says.

BASLE, Feb. 21.—Warslav Nijinsky, the leading Russian dancer of his time, will never dance again. Reports received here today from Hungary say that he is a hopeless paralytic and has lost his reason. His maladies are incurable.

Nijinsky, who triumphed in London and Paris, was the last of the favorite dancers of the Czar to visit the United States.

Man's House On Fire, He Works On

ALAMEDA, Feb. 21.—Charles Young, of [illegible] Central avenue, did not know that his house was burning over his head until the fire department arrived to put out the flames. Young was found at work in the basement.

"Why don't you know your house is on fire?" asked Chief Walter Steinmetz.

"No. Is it?" anxiously inquired Young, stepping out of the basement to see.

When the fire department arrived on the scene the roof and a greater part of the upper floor had been burned. Young had been so busy below that he had heard nothing. The damage amounted to more than $3000. The fire was caused by a defective flue.

COUNCIL STANDS BY DANCE HALLS CLOSING AT 1 A. M.

Protest by 200 Women Unavailing; Edwards Is Glad of His Vote.

Asserting that they aimed to bring the "safety first" principle into the moral as well as the physical realm, more than 200 churchwomen appeared before the city council this morning in protest against the recent amended ordinance which closes dance halls at 1 a. m. instead of midnight.

"The moral reputation of Oakland is at stake," said Mrs. J. L. Slater, president of the Church Women's League.

When the written protest of the churchwomen came up, as well as one from the Men's League of the First Congregational church, the assembled women arose and stood during the reading.

Several women spoke and Commissioner Edwards made an explanation of the ordinance. At the end of the discussion City Clerk Cummings announced that the matter was filed and went on to other business.

"We not only want to protest this ordinance," said Mrs. Slater, "but we want an ordinance closing all amusements at midnight.

GREAT PRESSURE

"On January 10 you passed an ordinance closing dances and pool rooms at midnight. Why was there an amendment in little less than a month? It is very obvious that there must have been some great pressure."

Mrs. Slater then dilated on the street car service ending and the chances for young girls having to ride in automobiles after midnight.

"It is said that material interests must be protected," she said. "I tell you gentlemen the thinking public does not consider dollars against the safety of our girls. The moral reputation of Oakland is at stake."

Mrs. W. H. Cloud also spoke, asserting that places of amusement must be held down.

"We may have to deprive people of legitimate pleasures, but we must take away sources of crime," she said.

Commissioner Edwards said he was glad he had voted for the one o'clock amendment.

"We used to have all sorts of dances till 2 o'clock and after," he said. "Never once did I see any of these faces here present. The council made the new ordinance on its own initiative. When the amendment was suggested closing the places at 1 o'clock we realized we had gone a little too far in closing them at midnight, and I for one voted for the amendment.

"I am glad I voted for the amendment. I am glad that I have helped bring home to you the thought that you too have a responsibility in the city government of Oakland. Before this matter came up I never saw you."

"FILED," SAYS CLERK

City Clerk Cummings then referred petitions from the Elks, Native Sons and others asking for 1 o'clock closing and Edwards said that more people were concerned in this than in opposing it.

"I still have to [illegible] Commissioner Edwards why he changed his mind in this matter," said Mrs. Slater.

"I think I explained myself very fairly," said Edwards.

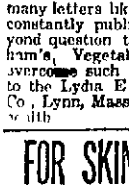
"Filed," said City Clerk Cummings.

The council passed a sheaf of resolutions preparing for the spring elections and made final passage of an ordinance appropriating $32,495.81 for expenses.

A communication was received from the Big Sisters of the Public Welfare League requesting charter amendments to provide the appointment of policewomen. The matter was filed.

WOMAN SICK FOUR YEARS

Was Finally Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound



Steens, Miss.—"I was all run down and nervous with female trouble and my sides pained me so at times that I could hardly walk. I suffered for four years with it. Then I saw your advertisement in the papers and I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel stronger and am able to do most of my housework now. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use this letter if you care to do so."—Mrs. W. H. BLAKE, Route 1, Steens, Miss.

Now many women, overworked, tired and ailing, keep up the ceaseless treadmill of their daily duties until they are afflicted with female troubles as Mrs. Blake was, and are run down, weak and nervous. But every such woman should be convinced by the many letters like hers which we are constantly publishing, proving beyond question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will overcome such troubles, and write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., in regard to their health.

PACIFIC NAVAL DEFENSE.

earings before the naval affairs committee of Senate last week brought out three or four ortant facts in connection with the policy and ainistration of the American naval force. Inmation of a highly interesting character was ed before the committee by Rear-Admirals am, Coontz, Parks and other naval experts, members of the committee, notably Senator ge of Massachusetts, showed a deep interest in data and opinions which the naval experts mitted.

connection with the naval construction pro-am, it was developed to be the concensus of ion that airplanes or submarines, or both, can er bring about the supremacy of the seas in al warfare, without great battleship, or capiship, strength; that the superdreadnaught of battleship and battle-cruiser must continue be the backbone of an effective naval force, er on the offensive or defensive. It was urged, ever, that airplane and submarine auxiliaries of prime importance to any fighting naval anization; that the surface ships of any naval er properly augmented with airplanes, airne carriers and submarines would possess a apelling, if not a decisive, advantage over an ersary not so supported.

egarding the naval defenses of the Pacific ast, one naval officer, Admiral Fullam, with om Senator Lodge voiced agreement, is quoted saying that the whole American navy should in the Pacific, that the fleet should not be died. This statement should be taken with some ·lifications until the full text of the testimony available. What undoubtedly was meant was there should be on the Pacific Coast facilities the operation and maintenance of all the *erican naval forces should any emergency de-*nd their employment in this area. This is true, course. It is equally true regarding the Atntic area, should a crisis in international afirs center in that ocean.

a the event of war the navy will be the front of battle either in defense or attack. And ind the navy line there must be adequate facil-· for its maintenance on a fighting basis. In Atlantic, such facilities are already adequate; the Pacific they are lamentably and dangerousinadequate.

The significance of the testimony of the naval erts and the inevitable conclusions resulting erefrom, is that there must be provided, at the liest possible date, new fleet accommodations the Pacific. There must be facilities for the aintenance of the present Pacific fleet in peace e, and these facilities should be susceptible of ansion in case of war to serve as the necessary re support for the entire American navy.

The proposed Pacific fleet base, the site of 'ch has been located by naval experts and a at committee of Congress, with the approval of Secretary and the General Board of the Navy, Alameda, is the vital unit to be established in shore facilities for the Pacific fleet. It would ve as a rendezvous for the capital and smaller ips of the fleet, a supply and repair depot of a pacity absolutely necessary to a fleet organizam, but not now existing on the Pacific Coast.

The duty of Congress is plain. Necessary auority for beginning the construction of the Alaeda base should be granted at once, with an appopriation that will permit the work to go forard as speedily as possible.

CONGRESS MUST HURRY.

If no time is lost ten working days remain at disposal of the last session of the sixty-fifth ongress. Th session will expire on Friday, arch 4, when P esident Harding is inaugurated. ould any legislative business remain unfinished must remain for the new Congress which President Harding, it is reported, will summon in ecial session some time in April, to attend to needs of the country in this regard.

Certainly it is the duty, as it ought to be the sire, of the present session of Congress to leave slate as clean as it is possible to make it. The y-fifth Congress was elected a few days before the signing of the armistice. It has been in control during the two years that have succeeded that important event, two years that should have been crowded with governmental acts of readjustment to peace time conditions.

If Congress should work hard enough and be blessed with the minimum of obstructive tactics it can put through all the important bills. But it must work hard and quickly, with as little jousting between the two partisan elements of its membership as possible. Two vitally important measures are still to be voted on in one chamber or the other and to go to the conference committee. They are the army and the navy appropriations acts, which will shape the military and naval policies of the government during the next fiscal year. Besides these there are the emergency tariff, the meat industry control and other measures. The disposition of the latter may or may not be important, according to one's views on the purposes aimed at, but they are the subject of much controversy and debate on them may delay other acts until it is too late finally to enact them into law, especially if the President's veto is encountered.

President Harding has intimated that he would be pleased if the legislative program of the present Congress should be entirely cleaned up before the constitutional adjournment. This undoubtedly will have the effect of speeding up the Republican majority but it is not yet possible to know what the minority party will do. Should it continue to pay more attention to its partisan welfare than to the national interests there will probably be a lot of unfinished business on March 4.

WHERE RESPONSIBILITY LIES.

The prepared statement of Controller John S. Chambers, appearing elsewhere on this page, seems to be designed to provide a means of escape by Mr. Chambers for responsibility for his share in preparing and recommending a budget of expenditures amounting to $81,387,692 for the next two fiscal years of California's state government. This budget is $28,714,436 more than the budget of 1919; after excluding the $18,000,000 increase alleged to be due to votes of the people, it is $10,714,436 more than the 1919 budget.

It is questionable whether any man may escape responsibility for so serious an act as the initial formal step in increasing the State's expenditures $28,714,436 in two years merely by an explanatory statement. That remains to be seen. But Mr. Chambers has performed this public service: he has pointed out with exemplary clarity that the budget board does not vote the appropriations; that the privilege of and responsibility for that remains with the legislature.

It is true that the budget board is merely advisory. It possesses no legislative functions of its own; its recommendations have no legal effect. "They are not binding, but merely advisory." By this statement Mr. Chambers indicates that he would feel no pain whatever if the legislature modified the budget board's recommendation. Considering that the other members of the budget board are of much less consequence politically and inspire no more public confidence than Mr. Chambers, it is to be assumed they would likewise cheerfully view any cuts in proposed expenditures the legislature might choose to make.

There is a duty, then, for the legislature to perform when it reconvenes next Thursday. It must examine the budget board's recommendations very carefully and ascertain what reductions, all along the line, are possible, and it must make these reductions. This should be done before any measure fixing a higher tax rate upon the people of California is considered. It is putting the cart before the horse to fix a tax rate before the legislature knows what the cost of government is to be. The legislature has made no pretense at examining the probable cost of the government during the next two years. It has had placed before it the "merely advisory" estimates of the budget board, and nothing more.

No member of the legislature, or any other citizen, can ever be worthy the great State of California. Such is not expected of them. But they may strive to be worthy the confidence the people have placed in them and try to serve California worthily in the present crisis of oppressive taxation. If they wish to do this they will omit no act calculated to save the people from the burden of higher taxes which the State administration seeks to impose.

In threatening to withdraw some of its electric train service in the Eastbay district the Southern Pacific is resorting to its favorite tactics of coercion and intimidation. It thinks thus to silence the demand of the city of Oakland for relief from the injurious and distressing handicap of the dilapidated wooden shacks that are made to serve as a terminal station at Fourteenth and Franklin streets. It comes hard with the railroad company to perform the simplest duties of citizenship. It always has refused to afford relief until the hardships endured because of its acts became intolerable. If the company expects to escape its obligations by decreasing service to the public it will be required to tear up the major portion of its tracks in the Eastbay district. At Thirteenth and Webster streets, along Webster, along Franklin and several other thoroughfares the Southern Pacific owns property that constitutes most serious handicaps to progress, which is not used in connection with the operation of the transportation lines, and which, as dilapidated wooden shacks, constitute a perpetual fire danger.

SPIRIT of the STATE PRESS.

From the mainland comes a report that capitalists have acquired a 25-year concession for a resort of splendid proportions on one of the Coronado islands. There will be a three-story hotel and an "angels' flight" to carry visitors from the boat landing to the hotel. Another project which is said to be under way is the establishment of another resort, under the "Mexican flag," to compete with the Tiajuana "road to hell." This appears to be a stock-selling campaign, and already considerable literature has been put into circulation about the "attractive(?) proposition."—Catalina Islander.

The law prohibiting the catching of small fish for the purpose of manufacturing fertilizer will be strictly enforced, according to C. S. Bauder, assistant to the California Fish and Game Commission, stationed at San Pedro. Palo Alto consumers of water, gas and electricity are blessed beyond their own realization, if we accept the reasoning of the Red Bluff News. That paper says that one advantage in Red Bluff owning her own water system is that consumers will have five trustees to kick for poor service instead of a management that is nonresident. Imagine the bliss in the kicking line we have here, with fifteen city councillors and three of the indispensable utilities municipally controlled.—Palo Alto Times.

WHY THE LEGISLATURE?

Functions, Powers and Limitations of State Budget Board Explained by State Controller

By JOHN S. CHAMBERS

In the multitude of conflicting statements being made for and against the so-called King tax bill, it has become evident that a very wide misapprehension prevails as to the duties and powers of the California State Budget Board.

The Budget Board is not a legislative body. It has no power either to add to or take from the functions the State Government is exercising.

Its purpose and its duty is to advise the Legislature and the Governor what, in its judgment, it will cost to operate the governmental machinery as it stands, so that it will really function as set up.

Since 1911 the Legislature has exceeded the recommendations of each budget, except in 1915, by from $3,000,000 to $6,000,000. The recommendations of the budget have no legal effect, they are not binding, but merely advisory, and must be based upon the situation as it exists, not as the board might wish it to be.

The fact that the Boynton committee, in 1919, presented to the Legislature of that year a plan for the reorganization and simplification of the State Government—the purpose being to cut down the cost and yet increase the efficiency—and that, this year, two similar measures are before the Legislature—none of them coming before the Budget Board—should be proof enough that such work is legislative and not budgetary.

In 1918, a constitutional amendment was submitted to the people which provided for the creation of a State Budget Board with certain defined powers, amplifying procedure and directing that during the consideration of the budget a member of the board should sit with each house of the Legislature. This proposal was a considerable step in advance over the more or less voluntary system now in operation, but the people voted it down by 261,311 to 96,820.

In other words, the Legislature was left supreme, as it is today. It alone can consolidate departments and commissions, it alone can eliminate functions that are in operation, it alone, the Governor co-operating, can cut down the cost of government.

Just as the Budget Board has refrained from approving or disapproving new functions or new policies presented to it for consideration, on the ground that such matters must originate with the Legislature, so has it refrained from expressing an opinion as to this function or that policy already established and in operation, on the ground that it had no authority to instruct the Legislature—the lawmaking body of the State—as to its duties.

If the Budget Board really possessed legislative powers, as so many seem to think it does, I feel assured, knowing the views of at least two, if not three, members of that body, that the recommendations made by it for the consideration of the 1921 Legislature would have been very different from those submitted. The Budget Board, however, is merely an employee, it must obey orders. The wisdom or the unwisdom of this policy or that does not come before it officially. The fact that retrenchment bills have been introduced in the Legislature is proof that the private views of several of its members are shared by others and who have gone to the fountain head of power, the Legislature, for relief.

As an illustration of the lack of power of the Budget Board—one will suffice, though many could be given—the Home for Delinquent Women is a case in point. The Legislature of 1919 appropriated, and the Governor approved $150,000 for the purchase of a site and the establishment of a home for delinquent women. The matter had been presented to the Budget Board before the Legislature convened, but it refused to consider it on the ground that it called for the creation of a new function, and therefore must originate in the Legislature.

This year the managers of the Home came before the Budget Board (the function having been approved and in operation), and asked for $197,400 for salaries, support and buildings. The Board having no power to abolish the home, as several of its members would like to do, and being under the duty of obeying the law, carefully considered the situation and recommended the lowest possible amount under which the institution could be operated, $103,000.

And so in other instances. The total of the 1921 budget is $81,387,692, an increase of $28,714,436.85 over the budget of 1919, but of this large increase $18,000,000, approximately, was voted by the people for school and highway support, leaving the real increase as recommended by the Budget Board, including fixed charges, increases which are automatic, of $10,714,436.85. The Legislature has the power to cut this as much as it pleases, and also to reduce the appropriation total below 1919 or 1917 if it so desires.

HARDING URGES APPROPRIATION FOR ALAMEDA

Joseph Caine Wires That He Thinks Naval Bill Will Pass Soon

Despatches from Washington indicating that there was a possibility of the naval appropriations bill dying in the senate were given denial in telegraphic advices to the Oakland Chamber of Commerce from the national capital today. Other despatches emanating from the opponents of Alameda declaring that the recommendations of the joint congressional commission would not be ratified and that the mainland naval base site was doomed to defeat in the house of representatives are flatly contradicted in the same advices.

In fact according to Joseph E Caine managing director of the Chamber of Commerce matters are in a highly satisfactory condition for getting an initial appropriation of $500 000 for Alameda before congress adjourns sine die a week from next Friday. Caine wires that the wishes of President elect Harding are having great weight with respect to the naval appropriations bill.

HARDING'S REQUEST

"In view of the general desire in congress for the passage of the naval appropriations bill," Caine wires, "and the tremendous influence of Harding's request we believe it will go through in the limited time remaining for action in congress. Senator Borah's stand in favor of disarmament may delay the Senate's action but the general opinion in Washington is that it will not affect the final result inasmuch as the upper house already has officially taken action on the Borah resolution.

"The provision for starting work in Alameda is practically assured as far as the Senate is concerned."

FILIBUSTER PLANS

Caine telegraphed that the bill was scheduled to be reported from the committee to the Senate tomorrow evening. After passage it will be sent to conference between the two houses.

Plans to filibuster against the bill in the house are rumored but the Washington advices predict that these will be unsuccessful. It is the feeling in the house that no delay should be permitted at the close of the session. Furthermore it is reported that the tactics of the opponents of Alameda have been such as to alienate much support that might otherwise have been obtained. These tactics are said to have consisted in personal attacks upon the integrity of the members of the joint Congressional commission and the navy general board.

Municipal Dredger Ready to Renew Job

Making the voyage from the Hanlon yards to the Albers wharf Saturday afternoon without mishap the municipal dredger cast anchor off the wharf today and is waiting patiently till an ocean-going ship quits unloading some time this afternoon.

The new scene of operations will keep the dredger busy for some time it is believed as it has been complained that silt has been filling in near the Albers wharf and lessened the depth of the water. Commissioner Soderberg also asserted that the original dredging job did not go close enough to the wharf but left a sloping bank under water which threatens to tilt ships at low water.

The dredger is expected to be at Albers for several weeks as the job is a big one. A line of pipe has been laid far inland to care for the water and silt pumped from the bay and some of the land behind the bulkhead will be filled in.

Suspect Freed of Disturbance Charge

When James Jones colored, who was arrested on February 4 by Officer Otis of the police morals squad on a disturbance charge appeared before Police Judge Mortimer Smith today to be sentenced the magistrate dismissed both counts and ordered him released.

Conflicting testimony given when Jones was tried on the misdemeanor charges last week resulted in Judge Smith taking the case under advisement until today. It was alleged by the police officer that Jones attacked him following an accidental collision while they were passing each other. At the time Officer Otis was laden with bottles of evidence seized in a dry raid nearby, and held a pitcher of bootleg booze in one hand.

In the conflict the pitcher "collided" with Jones' head and he was given a "booze shower." Jones retreated from the scene and was captured in his home.

Mrs. Hannah B. Knowland Dies at Home in Alameda

ALAMEDA Feb 21—Mrs Hannah Bailey Knowland widow of Joseph Knowland banker capitalist and resident of Alameda for many years died yesterday afternoon at her home [illegible] Lincoln avenue. She had lived in Alameda since 1872 and in California since 1863. Mrs Knowland was 88 years of age.

During her residence of almost half a century in Alameda Mrs Knowland was actively connected with church and philanthropic works and was one of the first active members of the First Methodist church of her city. She was at one time a State officer in the W C T U.

Mrs Knowland was the mother of four children Mrs Sadie Knowland Coe and Hollis Russell Knowland deceased, Mrs Lucile Knowland Hill and Joseph R Knowland. There are three grandchildren Mrs Elgar Lion, J Russell Knowland and William F Knowland and a great-grandchild Josephine Lion.

The funeral services are to be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home 2126 Lincoln avenue Alameda.

By T. G. DANIELLS

When an admirable life ends even though it has been full of years it is impossible to characterize it in a summary. Those who have taken account of it through the years may have an inward sense of its admirable qualities but the attempt to record the same is found to be inadequate—to leave many traits untouched and many things unsaid that are necessary to a worthy appreciation.

It is with this sense of the difficulty of adequately performing such a task that the writer attempts an appreciation of a woman of such high character as Mrs Knowland. Through an acquaintance of more than forty years some knowledge has accrued of the high womanly character and constant Christian spirit that characterized her life.

The vital record is that Hannah B Knowland (born Russell) first saw the light at Moscow, Maine, 88 years ago. She was of sturdy Revolutionary stock. Coming to California in 1863 she was married to Joseph Knowland the same year and removed to Alameda in 1872. It has been said of her as well of the sterling man who journeyed for half a century along life's pathway with her that they brought with them from their Eastern homes not only the vigor of the pioneer but also what was less common in the new El Dorado training and habits of a scrupulous kind. On the mother's side along with the blood of two soldiers of the Revolution (Joseph Russell and Calvin Russell) there descended the typical New England seriousness. The further statement that both lived lives of simplicity and neighborly helpfulness expressed but faintly the important place they occupied in the community, the moral force they were and the charity and helpfulness they dispensed.

Mrs Knowland was a woman of unswerving aim and purpose. She was an exemplar of the old fashioned Christian virtues. Professing a faith and adopting a Christian code she lived up to it strictly and held firm to her line of duty as the same appeared to her. But hers was not a self centered life. She was forgetful of self. At the last she was concerned that those who were at her side were depriving themselves of needed rest, that she was burdening others, unmindful of the fact that they were only grieving that they could not do more.

The sentiment she inspired in her children is set forth in a memoriam to her deceased daughter, written by the husband. It is here said of the daughter so untimely taken that "with her mother she enjoyed an exquisite bosom companionship more intimate, more constant, more lasting than any other instance of it that I have ever known."

This companionship was abundantly realized by those near her and her intensity of nature and steadfastness for that which was upright and good will long be felt by the wide circle that came within the influence of her personality.

When such a life ends immediate and adequately expressed appreciation is indeed difficult. Yet there is no service either to extoll the long life of worthiness or to impress upon the living the fine example that is of greater need. It is not enough to say that one who has lived a worthy life and died full of years has fought a good fight. But this occurs most readily to mind and may here be said in the sense that can be applied to a good wife, a loving and inspiring mother, a considerate neighbor, a helpful friend and always a Christian woman who has proven her character through long years of devotion and kindness.

Mother

NEVER a sigh for the cares that she bore for me,
Never a thought of the joys that flew by,
Her one regret that she couldn't do more for me,
Thoughtless and selfish, her Master was I

Oh, the long nights that she came at my call to me!
Oh, the soft touch of her hands on my brow!
Oh, the long years that she gave up her all to me!
Oh, how I yearn for her gentleness now!

Slave to her Baby! Yes, that was the way of her,
Counting her greatest of services small;
Words cannot tell what this old heart would say of her,
Mother—the sweetest and fairest of all.

HUGHES MAKES SACRIFICE TO ENTER CABINET

WASHINGTON Feb 21—Charles Evans Hughes made a big financial sacrifice to enter the cabinet of President elect Harding according to friends.

Hughes ranks with Elihu Root as the foremost lawyer practicing before the supreme court during the last two years.

His income for the last year was estimated today at between $150 000 and $200 000. After March 4 this will drop to $12,500—the salary of a cabinet officer.

Clubwomen Attend Property Law Test

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 21—A large delegation of San Francisco clubwomen interested in the community property law of 1917 were present in Superior Judge Deasy's court today to listen to the suit of Mrs Lotta Bohlige against Edward McKinney and C F Henderson, lessees of the Chateau Bohlige apartments 759 Pine street.

Mrs Bohlige is the widow of J H Bohlige, who died July 1 1920 and she is suing to cancel a lease on the apartment house which was entered into for a period of five years some time before her husband's death at a total rental of $54 000. Under the provisions of the community property act which is being tested for the first time a lease for a period longer than one year must be signed by both husband and wife. Mrs Bohlige affirms that she did not sign it and is now anxious for its termination.

On the witness stand she detailed a bit of business romance in describing how her husband a sewing machine salesman had amassed a sufficient fortune in ten years prior to his death by saving and clever real estate investments, to acquire the apartment house which is valued at $125 000.

Plan to Reduce Unemployment Fails

CHICAGO Feb 21—Plans for alleviating the unemployment situation by shortening the hours of men now at work were abandoned today when the Chicago Federation of Labor failed yesterday to act on the proposals submitted two weeks ago.

Charges were made by President John Fitzpatrick that "the men with snug jobs are uninterested in the fate of their less fortunate companions."

SONG WRITER DIES

ST LOUIS Feb 21—Mrs Jessie Smith Gaynor 58 noted as a composer of children's songs, died yesterday after a brief illness.

ONE IN THREE GET "CINCHES" AT UNIVERSITY

BERKELEY Feb 21—One student in every three at the university today received at least one cinch notice according to figures announced by the recorder's office.

A total of 3350 such notices calling attention of the students that they are delinquent in certain subjects, have been mailed by Recorder James Sutton. The students have an opportunity to make up their deficiencies before the end of the term, however. At that, says the recorder's offices, this term's "cinches" are a thousand less than those sent out at the same time last term.

Shippers Advised To File Claims Feb. 28

In order to protect shippers from the operation of the statute of limitations G W Luce freight traffic manager of the Southern Pacific Company, today instructed Southern Pacific agents to advise shippers and consignees in their territories that according to the law department of the United States railroad administration all claims, even for straight overcharges arising from transactions during the period of federal control of the railroads must be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission before March 1.

The necessity for filing of overcharge claims with the commission before March 1 next lies in the fact that under section 206 paragraph C of the transportation act of 1920 the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission to award reparation as to shipments moving during federal control is specifically limited to one year after the termination of federal control and that consequently in any case where it might be necessary to secure a refund the commission would be barred from jurisdiction unless such claim had previously been duly registered with it on or before February 28.

Water Complaint Referred to State

Andreas Hunse, 4454 Fleming avenue, Fruitvale one time operator of a private company who claims that his customers were taken from him by the East Bay Water Company appeared before the Board of Supervisors today to ask its aid in having the franchise of the larger company revoked. When informed that he would have to take his complaint to the Railroad Commission Hunse started to protest but was silenced by the gavel in the hands of Supervisor Hamilton.

NEW COURTHOUSE PROPOSAL HALTED BY SUPERVISORS

Murphy Joins With Members Opposing Decision and Plans Delayed

Declaration today by Supervisor D J Murphy of Livermore that he is opposed to action looking toward a new county courthouse until after the city and county consolidation issue has been disposed of definitely [illegible].

Supervisors J [illegible] Mullins and C W Heyer have declared themselves ready to take immediate action toward acquiring the site at Nineteenth and Telegraph avenue offered by Norman De Vaux but Supervisors P C [illegible] and W J Hamilton have opposed action until after the election. Murphy's attitude makes action at present impossible. Murphy also declared today he did not favor purchasing any property by resolution until the ordinance requiring submission of the matter to the people is repealed.

CONTRACT AWARDED

"The ordinance may be unconstitutional," he said, "but if it is let us have the courts tell us so before we act on that belief."

The board awarded the contract for the construction of six miles of concrete highway between Niles and Newark running through Centerville to the Bates Borland company whose bid was $151 [illegible]. There were only two bidders. The Healy Tibbitts Construction Company bid $156 713 50. The estimate of the county surveyor J A Haviland for the cost of the work was $140 000.

Mrs C B Overacker who was the storm center of a controversy in the Alameda County Welfare Bureau several years ago when a faction headed by Mrs J C Harrison opposed the acts of Mrs Duncan McDuffie in securing money from the supervisors for publication of a social survey without receiving approval of the bureau presented her resignation. It was accepted and Mrs C A Smith appointed in her place. It was stated that Mrs Overacker's health has prevented her from taking an active part in the work of the bureau.

DIRECTOR RE-NAMED

T H Silva was appointed to succeed himself as a director in the Pleasanton township water district the term being for six years.

Dr R G Brodrick director of hospitals, reported the cost of operating the county hospital at San Leandro for January was $24 498 including $1908 as the cost of running the farm which is self supporting and the cost of operating the Arroyo sanitarium at Livermore was $11 560. The average number of patients at San Leandro for the month was 543 and at Arroyo 140.

Miss Ruth Hartzell was appointed a nurse for the Alameda branch of the Public Health center at $1[illegible] a month.

New Cable To Cuba Is Satisfactory

[illegible] Feb 21—Tests of the new cable telegraph and telephone between Havana and Key West have proved entirely satisfactory it is declared by officials of the Cuba Telephone and Telegraph Company. Inauguration of the new service is expected in about three weeks.

It is planned to open the new service by establishment of connection between the National Palace in Havana and the White House in Washington and President Mario G Menocal almost on the verge of his retirement will exchange greetings with Warren G Harding who will then be the American President.

Husband Pays Wife; Claims Are Settled

Five hundred dollars was paid over to Mrs Sadie F Heal by J J Heal marine engineer today when Superior Judge A F St Sure granted her a divorce on a charge of desertion. The money was a full settlement of all claims of Mrs Heal against her husband.

Some time ago Heal was granted a divorce from his wife by default. Later Mrs Heal came into court and wept with such vigor that the judge set the default aside and dismissed the case.

Mrs Heal then came into court and was granted a divorce from her husband. They were married May 1[illegible] 1898 and separated March 26 1919.

SITE FOR STADIUM IS BEING SOUGHT BY U. C. REGENTS

Plan To Erect $1,000,000 Bowl on Present Space Meets Opposition

BERKELEY Feb 21—With the stamp of approval placed on the proposal to build a great stadium for the University of California by officials of that institution, discussion as to a site for the contemplated structure has arisen in Berkeley.

That the stadium or bowl be built on the present site of California Field with the tennis courts and buildings removed to make way for the structure is the preliminary recommendation of the buildings and sites committee of the regents as made last week. Opposition to this plan has been voiced in Berkeley on the ground that the space thus afforded is inadequate to provide a structure of sufficiently large size than the present football field to warrant the expenditure of $1 000 000 as planned.

PRICES TOO HIGH

As an alternative proposition presented to the college regents by those who deem the campus site too small Councilman George Schmidt has secured an offer of thirty four acres of land at Sacramento and Rose streets on which a price of $[illegible]6 000 has been placed.

That the regents have already considered the purchase of additional land for the stadium adjoining the university campus but abandoned their negotiations when it is declared they found the price exorbitant became known today. Two blocks bounded by Fulton street, Allston way, Ellsworth street and Bancroft way were under consideration by the college committee. An estimated purchase price of approximately $[illegible]00 000 it is declared was considered exorbitant by the regents for the purpose for which the land was sought. The land which is thickly built upon and in the heart of the city of Berkeley contained approximately six acres.

As business men of Berkeley have pledged aid to the university in financing the stadium several meetings at which a general discussion of the various plans now under consideration soon will be held. Councilman Charles D Heywood commissioner of public health and safety who was instrumental in launching the new stadium proposal through the Berkeley Manufacturers Association urges that the site proposed by Councilman Schmidt be thoroughly investigated by the regents before final action is taken.

NEED IS OBVIOUS

"Every one who attended the last football games in Berkeley knows how traffic was congested for blocks adjoining California Field," declared Heywood. "The police were confronted with a real problem in caring for thousands of automobiles. I am not saying that the site proposed by Councilman Schmidt be purchased but I am saying that the location of a stadium off the university campus is not a new idea."

Should the regents carry out a tentative plan and utilize the present site of California Field and adjoining territory space sufficient for a bowl seating but 40 000 persons or 15 000 more than the present field would be afforded according to Councilman Schmidt.

A discussion of the stadium site is scheduled at the March meeting of the board of regents when a report will be made by the buildings and sites committee recommending California Field.

Frying Pans and Kettles Are Text Books for U. C. Co-eds

Domestic Science Students Are Getting Actual Experience in Culinary Art

BERKELEY Feb 21—Frying pans and kettles are taking the places of textbooks for co-eds at the University of California enrolled in the class of Miss Mattie F Stover assistant in the department of household science.

There is no mere theory for the girls who are thus enrolled. When the co-eds who are specializing in this form of domestic science actually conclude their courses they'll know all the whys and wherefores of the culinary art for the simple reason that they have found out things themselves.

From the lowly but necessary potato to the finest form of frozen dessert does their education extend. The course as given this year is the most practical ever conducted on the university campus and is designed by Dr Agnes Fay Morgan head of the department to efficiently prepare co-eds as teachers of household science first and for home careers of their own later.

"We've found that teaching can't be done from textbooks alone," declares Miss Stover who conducts the course. "The only real education in this form of work comes from actually doing things. That's why we're stressing the actual cooking so much."

Among those enrolled in the course are the Misses Mildred [illegible], Margaret Guilford, Iola Hardy and May Wiley.

THREE PREACHER BROWNS AID IN ALAMEDA SERVICE

James A. Preaches, A. P. Prays and Edwin Helps Other Two.

ALAMEDA Feb 21—Three ministers with the name of Brown occupied the pulpit of the Alameda Baptist church Santa Clara avenue and Stanton street yesterday. Rev. James A Brown preached the sermon while Rev A P Brown led the opening meeting. Rev Edwin A. Brown, general superintendent of Spanish Missions assisted the other two.

Sin and Error formed the subject of the evening sermon delivered by Rev J A Brown.

The revival meetings will be continued in the Baptist church this evening and will last throughout the entire week. The meetings open at 8 o'clock and a cordial invitation is extended to the public. Last week there were large attendances at every session.

S. F. Pastor Will Address Church Club

Dr Arthur Phelps acting pastor of the First Baptist church of San Francisco will address a meeting of the Men's Brotherhood to be held this evening in the Tenth avenue Baptist church. His subject will be "Going Some." Two reels of a moving picture and several musical numbers will be offered as additional features in the evening's entertainment.

Gillespie Too Much for the Duarte Bunch

Leaders Unable to Break Into Tally Column Aganist Tires.

By MAURY PESSANO

Johnny Gillespie's wonderful pitching for the Coast Tire Co. against the Halton Didiers of Alameda at Lincoln park yesterday afternoon prevented Manuel Duarte's boys from copping the Class A bunting. He gave the Alameda Clothiers a fine coat of whitewash, beating them 2 to 0, and allowing them but one hit, a single to right field by Freddie Maas in the second inning. Phil Koerner's club played fine ball behind the big hurler, and hit the shoots of Lanu Shultis, who worked for the Halton-Didiers, when hits meant runs. This was the first game that Shultis worked in several months. The blonde hurler pitched a fine game of ball, but a couple of errors in the pinch helped the Coast Tire boys to victory Shultis was nicked for eight hits.

The Alameda team was shy "Babe" Danzig and Tom Scanlon, but they probably would not have helped any. Although wild, Gillespie sent ten of the Clothiers back to the bench on strikes.

SCORE IN SECOND

The Coast Tire boys won the contest in the second inning, when they scored a run They came back in the fifth with another. When Gillespie walked batters in the eighth inning and filled the bags with Freddie Maas at bat things looked rather gloomy for Gillespie, for a hit would have tied the count. The best that Maas could do was to hit an easy pop fly to Gillespie. A fast double play in the first inning against the Clothiers prevented trouble The tire team got after Shultis in the second inning and won the game when two hits gave them their first run Frank Sears opened the inning and was given a life on an error by Walter Keeley, who made a bad heave. Les Perasso bunted Sears along, and then "Skipper" Roberts hit one over the right field wall for a pair of bases, and home trotted Sears with the run that proved enough to win.

JOHNNY TOO CLEVER

Such hitters as Ollie Burns, Clark, Boldt and Freddie Maas could do nothing with Gillespie's slants in the pinch. Seven Alameda boys were left stranded on the bases. Two of the eight hits off Shultis went for doubles over the right field fence The second and last run for the Tire team came in the fifth inning. Gillespie singled and reached second on Boldt's boot A sacrifice by Mulcahy put the pitcher on third, and then "Fedder" Dolan sent a long fly to Maas in center to send home Gillespie Art Ross and Less Furnanz, utility players for the Clothiers, broke into the lineup, taking the places of Danzig and Scanlon. Tommy was in uniform but unable to play due to sickness, while Danzig was in bed.

Battling Ortega and George Chip clash in a Brooklyn ring tonight and local fans will wait up until the returns come in. The contest was originally scheduled for Saturday night, but for some reason not known here was put over until this evening. Chip was champion of the world some time ago, but he took one on the chin from Al McCoy, who in turn curled up when Mike O'Dowd smacked him George was born 'way back in 1888 and when he went to school he was enrolled as George Chipulonis. He is a Tutewanian - American. whatever that is Local fans piped George in action back in 1913 when he rocked Fighting Billy to sleep a couple of times, in the 18th round of their first fight and in the fourth of their second a couple of months later. Jimmy Clabby took a decision from him at Daly City in the same year. That was the time Jack Kearns was touting Billy Murray as the middleweight champion of the world and the first knock out was the first intimation Kearns got that he was wrong. George swiped the championship from Frank Klaus but he did not hold it very long and it is certain he did not save much coin as title holder, otherwise he would not be a trial horse around eastern fight centers. Ortega will have everything in his favor tonight but weight and experience and the local boy's youth and stamina should more than offset those advantages

Local boxers who have gone north may not get the action at Portland they expected. According to information from Oregon, the fight game has been overworked and none of the clubs are making money. With both the Portland Boxing Commission and the Milwaukie clubs running the fans have been geting too much boxing and there is talk of the dates being a little further apart in the future. Even Jack Dempsey could not draw a full house when he boxed an exhibition with Terry Keller a few weeks ago.

Frankie Burns, the local lightweight, made a big hit at Vernon when he handed Phil Salvadore a couple of lickings. The Los Angeles papers have been singing the praises of the local lad and the folks down south are about ready to adopt the veteran.

Melrose Club Stages Rally To Hold Lead

After holding the Melrose Merchants to four hits for the first seven innings Paul (Lefty) Fein, chucker for the Lee Bertillion Hatters weakened in the eighth inning at the Melrose diamond yesterday afternoon and allowed the Melrose boys to gather eight hits which netted them the same number of runs The rally was somewhat unexpected as Fein and Mitterwald of the Merchants were engaged in a pretty pitching duel, the latter allowing but one hit for the first eight frames With the eight-run lead Mitterwald eased up in the ninth inning and the Hatters gathered three hits for their only two runs The final score was 8 to 2. "Shuey" Fernandez was the hitting star of the contest by getting three hits in four times at bat Rizzo and Klein hit two each for the winners Ed Borba again caught a nice game for the Melrose boys In spite of the big rally against him in the eighth Fein deserves lots of credit for the game he pitched, as he sent twelve of the league leaders' best stickers to the bench on strikes Mitterwald fanned nine The rally saved the Melrose club from losing first place in the Class B race The score:

Phoenix Trim Mayrose Nine In 10 Innings

St. Mary's College Phoenix had to stage another tough battle to keep away from defeat at the local college diamond yesterday afternoon when they ran against the crack Mayrose Butter team of San Francisco. The game went ten innings with the college boys finally winning out by a 6-to-5 score.

It was an uphill battle for the Phoenix from the start to finish, as the first inning saw the Butter boys score three runs on as many hits off the pitching of Carl Schnell The Phoenix came back in their half and scored the same number of runs and hits off the shoots of Coyne. Again in the third the Mayrose went out in front by gathering two runs on three hits. Two hits in the seventh gave the Phoenix one of those runs back and then they tied the score in the last of the ninth with another.

In the tenth inning, after Covey had allowed Cheney to reach first he was replaced by Roy Bliss who jammed when Dunne and Tifer got on. He then forced the winning run in by issuing a walk to Pete Rose Only one was out at the time

[illegible] of the game was a great catch in left field by Mooney of the Mayrose The outfielder fell in going after a fly ball and while flat on the ground he managed to get the ball before it touched the ground Di mond also made a nice running catch Fleischmann starred around first for the Phoenix The score

John Black of Claremont, present northern state open champion, was over at Lakeside yesterday trying out the course over which he will have to defend his title early in March Playing with Dr. McDaniel against Eddy Traub and Dr. F. Rudolph, John rounded the course in 71, 3 under par. His game was good all the way, even his putting was almost as of old. He took three putts on the 11th and missed a holeable one on the 18th even with a 4 on the 9th he was 3 up on par going out and came in 1 under par.

The Olympic club, with its 4300 membership and 500 golfers, contemplates having two more 18-hole courses This will be positively necessary as congestion at Lakeside is already uncontrollable

The Beresford golf club has secured an option on the ground to the south of the present Lakeside course, but there is still room to the north and east of the present 18 holes.

Tomorrow at Sequoyah will be held the annual medal play competition for the Julius Young shield. The winner of low net and low gross have their names inscribed and a golf ball sweepstakes is arranged. The winner and runner-up getting a proportionate share of the balls donated, Dr. J. H. Stineman was a double winner last year but his handicap has been considerably curtailed since then and he will have to shoot par golf to duplicate last year's record Mount Diablo golfers are playing match play against par Claremonters usually have an impromptu event on this holiday

Errors Again Beat Young B. Steengrafe

Bill Steengrafe pitched another great game for the Alameda Bethlehems at the Coast League park only to be charged with a 3 to 0 defeat, the Crystal Laundry being the team to get credit for the victory. Steengrafe allowed but five hits, the same number as did Elmer Shea, who chucked for the Washers.

The Washers got two of their hits off Steengrafe in the third inning when they scored two of their runs, but had the tall youngster been given the proper support he would probably have pulled through the inning without a score against him "Red" Lynch led off with a two bagger and scored when Viveroux, fielded Ray Rowher's grounder and heaved wildly to first Charley Schwake singled to right and when Merani booted the ball, Rowher crossed the plate. Another wild heave in the fifth aided the Washers to their other run. McKenna fanned. Claude Rowher doubled and advanced on Lynch's infield out In an attempt to catch Rowher off third, Eddie Kenna heaved the ball wild and the runner trotted home The score:

Crystal Jrs. Win 2 Games From Natives

By winning both games of a double-header with the Hayward Natives at the latter's diamond yesterday afternoon the Crystal Laundry Juniors came within a few points of overtaking the Melrose Merchants, who are in the lead of the race for the Class B pennant of The TRIBUNE league The score of the first game was 6 to 3 and that of the second 9 to 2.

Manager Jack Clarcey sent Eddie Nelson to the hill for his Young Washers in the first game and the young chucker did a nice job by holding the Natives to four hits In the first inning it looked like Nelson was due for a fine lacing, as the Natives nicked him for two hits and their three runs, but after that he was almost invincible. The Washers gathered two runs in the first and cinched the game with three more in the fourth With three on the bags in the first inning for the Washers, Hansen doubled to score two teammates In the fourth Maas' single with the bags filled scored two, and after he stole second, Hansen delivered another hit that scored him. Lyall Sinclair did the chucking for the Natives and was touched for thirteen bingles.

In the second game Hansen was again the hitting star by getting three out of four. His triple with the bags full gave the Washers their first three runs Again in the seventh Maas delivered his second triple of the game to score a runner Bill Keane, the Washers' catcher, was in the limelight by hitting a triple and two singles in this game The scores:

Mission League Managers in Row Over Frank Juney

SALINAS, Feb. 21.—After a deadlock lasting throughout the afternoon and evening sessions concerning the playing status of Pitcher Frank Juney the board of directors of the Mission Baseball League adjourned to meet next Sunday when the discussion will be resumed

Juney, formerly of the Portland club was given permission at the last meeting to play with the Salinas team, of which he has been elected manager. Gilroy's representative today declared that if Juney be allowed to pitch for Salinas the Gilroy club would not be a contender in the league. There was no objection to Juney playing any other position

San Jose Monterey and Salinas are in favor of allowing Juney to pitch for Salinas, while Gilroy, Watsonville and Hollister are in opposition.

President J. J. Nealon has declared that Juney should be allowed to go into the box for Salinas A decision will probably be had next Sunday.

BASEBALL GAMES HOLD SPACE ON WASHINGTON BIRTHDAY PROGRAM

Walter Mails to Pitch Against All-Stars at St. Mary's; Tribune Class B Teams Play

Several baseball games will be among the feature attractions of the Washington's Birthday sport program for tomorrow. Probably the best attraction of the day is scheduled at St. Mary's College diamond on Broadway where the St. Mary's Phoenix team is to tangle with Billy Orr's All-Star aggregation from the Sacramento Mid-winter League. The game will be a benefit for the St. Mary's athletic fund, and to aid in making it a success. Walter (Duster) Mails, hero of the last world series, and now coach at St. Mary's will be on the hilltop for the college boys and he promises to cut 'em loose against the All-Stars.

This game has been arranged for the past couple of weeks and Mails has worked his southpaw into condition for it. Maybe if it were a bit earlier in the year, fans would go to the college only to see Walter toss 'em up there, but the big fellow says there will be no fooling against the stars Another reason for Walter being in shape so early is because he will leave next Friday night to report to the Cleveland Indians at Dallas, Texas. So the appearance of Mails on the mound tomorrow will be his last here before going to the big brush. Just to satisfy the kiddies at St. Vincent's orphanage at San Rafael, Mails will make a trip there next Thursday afternoon and pitch for the Ambrose Tailors against the Phoenix. The St Vincent boys' band will come here tomorrow and will parade through the business section before the game, and between innings they will treat the fans to the latest tunes

Billy Orr is bringing a first-class ball club with him to play the Phoenix tomorrow. Forrest Cady and Kettle Wirts are the catchers Big Joe Williams will cover first, with Covey McGinnis at short. Joe Gedeon second and Bobby Schang third. Jimmy O'Connell, Billy Orr and DeWitt Le Bourveaux will be the outfielders Schrader and Garry O'Brien will do the chucking Louie Guisto, last year first-sacker for the Oaks and who is slated to report to Cleveland, has promised to do some pinch-hitting for the Phoenix if necessary. Louie has been assisting Mails in coaching the college boys.

TRIBUNE LEAGUE CLASS B TEAMS WILL PLAY GAMES.

Followers of the Class B race of The TRIBUNE Midwinter League will have an opportunity to see some of their favorite athletes in action tomorrow as games are scheduled to be played at the Melrose and Key System and Allendale diamonds. The Crystal Laundry Juniors who are putting up a game fight for the "B" bunting will make the trip to Emeryville to play Elmhurst Merchants who are also having a big say about who is to bet the flag. As both these teams played games yesterday it is hard telling who will do the chucking for them tomorrow.

Manager "Doc" Silvey of the Espees has no fear of any of the teams in the Class B League and tomorrow will see him lead his railroaders onto the Melrose diamond to meet the leaders. Silvey is somewhat elated over the return of George Kister to his club, and you can look for the little fellow and his players to make a lot of noise in the closing games of the Class B race The games in the Class B will start at 2:15

Zimmerman will do the umpiring at Melrose, Apple will go to Elmhurst and Pierotti to Allendale.

The Allendale fans will come in for a little treat tomorrow as the Allendale Merchants who are going like champions in the Class B division pennant fight have decided to play the Modern Woodmen a postponed game at the Allendale diamond tomorrow afternoon at 2:15. Charley Ward is expected to do the chucking for the Woodmen, Cunningham or Didier will do the honors for the Merchants.

AMBROSE SENDING FAST NINE TO MARE ISLAND.

The marines and sailors at Mare Island should witness a dandy game tomorrow if their team is as fast as it is cracked up to be. Ambrose Furrer, manager of the Ambrose Tailor team is sending a pretty strong club to the island to play the nine there. As Ambrose will be unable to make the trip, John Marsh will be in charge. It seems that every ball player in the city wants to make the trip, probably because they know of the good time in store, as the Ambrose bunch has always been treated royally by the boys at the Island Paul (Lefty) Fein and "Doc" Quetrolo are the pitchers. Joe Dooley will catch, while the infield will be cared for by Pete Starasinich, Bobby Jones of Detroit Tigers, Louie Fonseca of the Cincinnati Reds and John Marsh. Phil Apperson, Walter (Dutch) Holstrum, Toots Bankhead and Bill Crosby are the outfielders

The Ambrose players will leave San Francisco tomorrow morning at 9:45 o'clock.

Out at the Hayward diamond tomorrow afternoon, the Hayward Natives will tangle with a team of San Leandro Natives organized by Gene Caldera of the Best Tractors. It will be a benefit affair for the Hayward Natives

BOEHLING AND AL. WHITE SIGN CONTRACTS

Herbert McFarlin, secretary of the Oakland Baseball Club, announced this morning that the signed contracts of Pitcher Joe Boehling and Infielder Al White arrived at local headquarters this morning Boehling is at his home in Richmond, Virginia, and says he will leave in a few days. Al White is the third sacker secured from the Yankees.

BUILDING BOOM IS FORECASTED BY WILLIS POLK

Architect Declares Capital, Labor Must Unite in Close Co-Operation

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb 21.—A real building boom will follow the present business depression and the end of this depression is in sight, according to Willis Polk, San Francisco architect, who issued a reassuring statement today on the future of the building industry. Capital and labor must unite in close co-operation, Polk says. The statement follows:

Industrial depression, invariably coupled with deflation, came, played its flight and is now almost over. We must prepare ourselves for the new era. The one outstanding aspect of the situation is the present shortage in housing, domestic, industrial and commercial. The building business must supply this deficiency and is therefore destined to become tremendously active. First it must regain public confidence by putting its house in order. Capital is like a turtle—it withdraws into its shell if menaced, but like the tortoise it can outdistance the proverbial hare when its course is clearly defined.

It is now squarely up to those engaged in the building business to interest capital in prospective investments by proving that all elements of excess cost of material and low efficiency of labor have or will be eliminated.

Labor must realize this and do its part, but the real canker sore most needing treatment is the so-called cost plus system.

Under this method the efficiency of labor declined some third, as much as 50 per cent. Certainly it is a system that puts a premium on incompetence, demoralizes discipline and terrifies capital. Instead of being a sore needing treatment, indeed a capital operation may have to be performed. Anyway, cost plus is an incubus upon the building business and its vogue is on the wane.

Prior to the re-establishment of complete confidence capital must be shown that exposures the country over of price fixing in certain cases are not indicative of a widespread combination comprising the building business as a whole. We must return to methods upon which the law of barter and sale were founded. We must get back to sound fundamentals with both labor and capital doing team work.

Wife Threatened to Shoot Him, He Says

That his wife, Manettie V. Mitchell, threatened to shoot him with a revolver, fed their son on booze, smoked cigarettes, broke up the furniture, chopped up the bed clothes with a hatchet and tried to kill him with an ax and a club are some of the charges included in the divorce complaint of Hanson Mitchell, whose case came up before Judge A. F. St. Sure today.

Mitchell charges that his wife left him in May, 1916, to go to Long Beach to become a movie actress but that she became a cabaret entertainer and frequenter instead. She returned to him one year later, he says, and amused herself by menacing him with a revolver, a hatchet and other weapons, smoked cigarettes in public and gave liquor to Hanson Mitchell Jr. They were married in Oakland January 13, 1912.

West's Premier Motor Show Opens in S. F. With Record Breaking Crowds

By JIM HOULIHAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—The premier motor industry exposition of the entire western country is in full swing with crowds and sales records shattering all previous auto show figures.

From the attendance today and the crowds turning the stiles of the auditorium during the first two days of the '21 show, it is expected that a record Monday night crowd will view the big exhibit this evening. The show is the biggest success in the automotive history of the West, according to leaders of the industry who are in attendance.

With the record breaking crowds and the remarkable sales records for the show opening, industry heads today declare that all doubt concerning the industry during this season has been dispelled.

RECORDS BROKEN

Saturday and Sunday shattered all previous records for the opening days. Sunday's attendance was given at 1[illegible]000 as compared with 11,100 for Sunday at the 1920 show. The record Saturday was [illegible]400, as against 11,000 for the opening day last year. Sunday's crowds included many visitors from throughout Northern California and the bay section.

The sales records for the opening day removed any doubt that this is to be a buyers' show. The records also developed a contest that has gone up to the executive committee of the Motor Car Dealers' Association for settlement. The contest arranged by Manager George A. Wahlgreen for the first sale reported following the opening of the show resulted in the discussion.

The first sale reported was at 1:07 p. m., of a Mitchell touring car, by J. R. Frendon Jr. to Albert Winkler, 4442 Mission street.

Other salesmen protested this sale, however, claiming that it was made before 2 o'clock, the advertised time of the formal opening.

The first sale reported after 2 o'clock was by the William L. Hughson company of a one and one half ton truck to a San Francisco draying concern. This sale was reported two minutes after 2 o'clock by Robert Lanzit of the Hughson company.

PRIZE IS HELD UP

Manager Wahlgreen yesterday referred the contest to the executive committee, whereupon William L. Hughson, the chairman, refused to serve in making a decision as he heads one of the companies claiming the award. The prize was to be a day off from the show for the winning salesman for an excursion over San Francisco and the bay section in a Purcell Gates aeroplane.

The last sale on the opening day was made just as the lights were being turned out in the truck department when the Fageol company sold a five ton truck to a San Francisco express concern.

From the first day's sales records it is claimed that the '21 season sales will eclipse those of last year.

*An event of importance to the en*tire truck and trailer industry was announced yesterday when factory and mechanical experts expressed approval of a patent brake on a trailer perfected the day before the show opening by a San Francisco trailer manufacturing concern. Ever since the adoption of the trailer for commercial and industrial use, factory experts have sought a brake for the trailer that could be operated from the driver's seat on the truck. They sought one simple in construction and inexpensive.

The San Francisco factory happened upon a little device while preparing for the show. One was perfected for the show while papers applying for patent rights were being prepared and the mechanical achievement was brought into the show.

WOMEN ENTHUSIASTS

Increasing interest by women motor enthusiasts is shown on every hand at the show. One exhibit shows two girl mechanics assembling and taking down a motor, showing women motorists that they may care for their own cars.

Visiting factory representatives last night declared that the San Francisco show to be the most beautiful ever held. The exhibits, which include all the feature attractions at the New York and Chicago shows, are declared to be the most complete showing of the achievements of the auto industry ever shown in the west.

Motoring models from a downtown department store will grace many of the higher priced cars tonight, showing the latest and approved motoring togs and evening gowns.

Manager Wahlgreen last night announced that the doors of the auditorium will open at 10:30 a. m. on Tuesday, Washington's birthday. Throughout the week until Saturday the doors will open at noon and close at 10:30 p. m. Next Saturday the doors will open at 10:30 a. m.

DECORATIVE SCHEME

The scenic wonderlands of California by moonlight have been achieved indoors. Visitors declare that this year's decorative setting for the show is the most artistic and most pretentious ever accomplished since the days of the Exposition. It is agreed that the interior of the big auditorium has been transformed into a fitting setting for the showing of the last word in motor developments and allied crafts.

The entire show is housed in a Grecian temple consisting of a circular colonnade of thirty two enormous classical columns surmounted by bronze trusses and a decorative canopy. Through the colonnade are vistas of California hills and vales bathed in soft moonlight, giving an atmosphere of the great western out of doors.

The illumination from the floor comes from a large number of high powered lamps supported by antique bronze statues of Mercury, the mythological god of commerce. The general illumination of the temple is by means of sixteen large bronze tripod flaming censers which produce an unusual and charming lighting effect.

The decorative structure of the temple, which is larger in its dimensions than the far famed Pantheon *in Rome, is suspended from the ceil*ing of the auditorium by means of steel cables.

Ward and Blohme, architects of last year's show, were the designers and in charge of all construction and decorative work. The entire decorative scheme was built at a cost of $5[illegible],000.

BASKETBALL

By BUD MORIARTY

In a wild carnival of baskets the Athens Athletic Club 145 pound aggregation won their sixth straight contest in the TRIBUNE Eastbay Basketball League Saturday night at the St. Joseph's court when they swamped the Golden Gate Merchants 65-32. The winners dropped the leather through the hoop 32 times while the Golden Gate tossers registered 14 field goals. Grant, flash forward for the Athens team, took the high score honors with 20 of his team's points scored on ten ringers from the floor. LaCloustra and Charbonnier looked the best for the merchants. Hall, G. G. center, could not get into action as he was strongly guarded by Drew, the rival center. This win clinches the cup for the Athens boys. Their remaining game is with the Deaf and Blind School quint, a team that has not won a fray in the league to date.

Athens A. C. 145 (65)—Captain Frost and Grant (Brobst) forwards, Drew (Hutchinson) center, Lower and Gilbert guards.

Golden Gate Merchants 145 (32)—Captain LaCloustra and Vail forwards, Hall, center, Mellana and Charbonnier guards.

Field goals—Frost 4, Brobst 7, Grant 10, Lower 1, Gilbert 4, Hutchinson 1, Drew 5, LaCloustra 6, Vail 3, Hall 2, Charbonnier 4.

Free throws—Hutchison 1 of 1, LaCloustra 4 of 6.

Referee—Stockfelt, Golden Gate.

The Richmond unlimited basketball quintet which will meet Joe Aurrecoechea's Livermore Cowboys at Richmond tonight added another victory to their credit by defeating the Martinez five 22 to 19. The Richmond boys have won many games this season and Manager Miller expects to see them give Aurrecoechea's bunch a good scare if not a beating. Richmond and Livermore are to play a two-game series, the second game to take place tomorrow night at Livermore.

The R. G. F. 110-pound team defeated the Tenth Avenue Baptists of the same weight at Pilgrim Congregational gymnasium, 20 to 6. Emmet Putterell starred for the winners by shooting seven field baskets. Turner played a good game for the Tenth Avenue boys.

The All Comers and Audubon 110-pound teams of Oakland will meet tonight in a game of the P. A. A. tourney being held at the Coliseum in San Francisco. The winner of this game will meet the Salesian 110 pounders for the championship on March 5th. The All Comers team started in the tourney a couple of weeks ago by defeating the Columbia Park Boys five. The Salesians defeated the San Francisco Boys Club last week.

Another game tonight will be staged by the 145 pound teams of the Young Men's Institute and University of California.

Allendale Batters Hammer Shoots of Elmhurst Hurlers

The Allendale Merchants had their batting togs on when they traveled to the Elmhurst diamond and three pitchers couldn't keep them from putting over a 10 to 3 win on the Elmhurst Merchants. In the fifth inning they batted Harry Mobley, the Elmhurst pride, from the box and Draper, who succeeded him, was also batted out in the seventh. T. Driesbach finished the chucking and was nicked for four hits.

Lefty Didier twirled his best game since joining the Allendale club. The Elmhurst boys nicked him for three hits in the first inning but after that they got only one. He sent ten to the bench on strikes. Didier was also there with the stick, hitting a double and single.

George Quellich was the big star with the stick for the Allendale boys as he connected safely four times in five trips to the plate. Martin, Allan, Tocher and Quellich surprised the fans by their sensational work in the field. By winning this game the Allendale team hopped into third place. The score:

AIR POLICE PLANNED

PARIS, Feb. 21.—An aerial police force will be organized as part of the French customs service to detect and prevent smuggling by air.

What Is a "Fair" Tax Rate?

Suppose you own a shed worth $100.

Suppose you pay $1 in taxes on this shed.

Your tax rate is, clearly, 1 per cent on actual value.

If you pay $1.63 in taxes on your shed, your tax rate is 1.63 per cent on actual value, and this is what State officials say our average tax rate is. To be exact the rate is given as $1.632 on each $100 of actual value.

That's all there is to this taxation question.

What Should Utility Companies Pay?

Now apply the same process to public utility companies, from whom the State collects a tax that is passed along to all citizens. For example, the Seavey Tax Commission's valuation on operative properties of railroads and street railroads is $519,620,000, in 1916. On the same basis used by Mr. Seavey they are worth less today.

If they paid, like the average citizen, $1.63 on each $100, they would have paid the State, in 1920, $8,480,000.

As a matter of fact, they paid in 1920, $10,122,000, or an excess of $1,642,000 over the $1.63 rate. In other words, they are paying, not 1.63 per cent, like anyone else, but 1.94 per cent on the Seavey Tax Commission's valuation of their properties.

Now our State officials demand that the taxes on public utility companies be still further increased.

A Fair Proposition

If these companies are not now paying their fair share of the proper cost of State government, they should do so. If they are now paying what they should pay, the tax burden on the public should not be increased. This situation demands facts and fair play.

The Facts Are These:

Today---to use the same example---railways and street railways are paying taxes at the rate of	$1.94
In 1916 the Seavey Tax Commission estimated the tax paid by railroads and street railroads, as compared with the value of their properties, at	1.30
An increase, since 1916, on each $100 on the Seavey valuation of or, in percentage, an increase of 59 per cent over the 1916 rate.	$ .64
If the King Tax Bill were passed, railways and street railways would pay in 1921 at the rate of . . . . or, in percentage, an increase of 138 per cent over 1916.	$3.09

Our Citizens Must Decide

It is for all citizens to decide whether the indirect taxes they pay through public utility companies shall be again increased when these companies are already paying at the rate of 59 per cent more on the Seavey valuation than they paid in 1916.

Be not deceived. This is your affair. The money collected through public utilities is charged back to you in the cost of food, clothes, rent, light, heat, interest rates and transportation—in everything you buy.

No Ad Valorem Tax

Remember:

No revenue deficit exists.

No ad valorem tax is needed.

Ask your legislator to demand that the State live within its income, or show why.

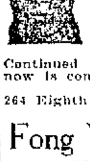
Meningitis Relieved



Oakland, Cal., Feb. 2, 1921

My nephew had meningitis and was isolated in a hospital over in the city. I was told he was so sick that he may die. I went to Fong Wan Herb Co. and told them his condition. He took their herb tea for a week, then began to feel better. Continued for two more weeks and now is completely well.

Spring Herbs Relieve Bladder Ills

Severe bladder trouble, which caused partial unconsciousness, with much pain and annoyance, was relieved by the treatments of the Sing Herb Specialists, as is told in the following letter:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I had suffered from a most severe case of bladder trouble, with involuntary action as many as fifteen to twenty-five times a day and accompanied by spells of partial unconsciousness, when I went to the Sing Herb Specialists. Though having only treated with the Sing Specialists for six weeks I am practically well from a trouble which five or six American doctors failed to help in any particular. This statement is made in hope that others may profit by my experience.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—Bulls had an advantage in the wheat market today with the trade giving attention to knowledge that the visible supply was only 40 per cent of an average and that exports to date were much above normal.

Opening prices, which ranged from ⅝c to 2¼c higher, with March $1.71 to $1.71½ and May $1.61½ to $1.62¼, were followed by a material further advance, and then a moderate reaction.

Corn after opening ⅛c to 1 3-8c higher including May at 71 1-8c to 71 7-8c, continued to harden.

Oats starting unchanged to ⅛@3-8c higher, May 45¾ to 46c, then scored gains all around.

Scattered selling had a depressing effect on provisions.

Strength in the wheat market later seemed due more to lack of pressure than to any continued aggressive buying. Prices closed steady, 1¼@2c net higher, with March $1.71¾ to $1.72 and May $1.61 to $1.62.

An unexpected falling off in the visible corn supply total counted later against the bears. Closing quotations were unsettled, ¾@⅞c to 1⅛c net higher, with May 71⅝c@71¾c and July 73¼@73⅛c.

Corn—No. 2 mixed, 70c; No. 3 yellow, 67@67½c.

Rye—None. Barley, 70@82c.

Timothy seed—$4@5.50.

Clover seed—$13@19.

Close:

Wheat — March, $1.71¾; May, $1.61⅝.

Corn—May, 71⅝c; July, 73¼c.

Oats—May, 46c; July, 46⅞c.

Pork—May, $21.

Lard—May, $12.45.

Local Market Notes

Trading was dull on the local market today. Last night's rain interfered with the local vegetable allotments and offerings were not plentiful. This fact together with the fact that tomorrow is a holiday tended to decrease the volume of trading.

At the Retail Grocers' Association today it was said that far more of the small neighborhood grocers than usual were planning to close on Washington's Birthday tomorrow. The produce market will be open for a few hours [illegible] from 7 to 9 for the purpose of receiving express shipments.

San Leandro green onions were in good demand today and brought as high as $1.75 a box, the highest price paid for them yet this season. There was no local rhubarb in the market and no new shipments of Los Angeles rhubarb.

The Arkansas "yams" were moving slowly today and some of the dealers were knocking the price down to 7c. While they are selling well and are well liked apparently by consumers, it is believed that too many of them are being brought into the market. Six cars of sweet potatoes of the Nancy Hall variety are en route here from the East, but Eastbay markets will not absorb many of these if today's trade is an indication.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The cotton market opened firm, although March contracts were much lower, selling at a new low record for the season under fairly heavy long liquidation and switching prior to first of March notice on Monday. Later months showed gains of 4 to 22 points by Liverpool buying and covering by shorts. Southern wire houses and spot concerns were again sellers, but the tone remained steady to firm for the early trading, with demand broadening. Liverpool cables were about as expected.

LIQUIDATION IN SHIPPINGS, OIL AFFECTS TRADING

Numerous Industrials Follow Lead of Ship Stocks in Downward Trend.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Further enforced liquidation among shippings and oils caused acute weakness at the opening of today's stock market. Atlantic Gulf and West Indies made a precipitate decline of 8 points to 42¾ in the first 15 minutes, falling 2 points between sales. Royal Dutch and Mexican Petroleum lost 1¾ and 2½ points, respectively. American Sugar 2 1-4 and American Woolen 3¼. Numerous other industrials, utilities and specialties were lower.

Much selling was reported to be for account of a stock exchange firm, whose suspension was announced at the opening of the session.

Other shippings were adversely affected by the drive against Atlantic Gulf. Mercantile Marine preferred lost 2¾ points and U. S. Fruit 3 5-8. Oils increased their losses, Mexican Petroleum falling 3¾ and Royal Dutch, General Asphalt and Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil 3 to 2¼. United States Steel, which withstood last week's pressure, forfeited one point and other steels and equipments were 1 to 2 points lower. Motor, Textile and Leather specialties participated in the reaction.

Atlantic Gulf and several other leaders made further recoveries during the intermediate session, but the movement was toward additional depression. Conspicuous features of weakness included Mexican Petroleum, Houston Oil, United Fruit, International Paper, Sumatra Tobacco and American Agricultural Chemical at 25 points decline.

Leaders were temporarily benefited by the drop of call money to six per cent, but prices fell again later when pressure concentrated on the coppers. The close was heavy. Sales approximated 560,000 shares.

5000 WORKERS QUIT

ST PAUL, Feb. 21. — Building operations in St Paul were completely tied up today when between 4000 and 5000 building trades workers refused to go to work. Leaders said this action resulted from a decision of contractors a week ago to reduce wages 20 per cent.

News of the Waterfront

A heavy gale from the northwest struck this vicinity last night from the Oregon coast bringing heavy rain along with it, which was unexpected, although storm signals were flying in the northern part of the coast on Saturday, but the barometer took a sudden drop and today it is very low. Several of the steam schooners which have been barbound up north managed to get out on Saturday morning and arrived here yesterday before the storm struck them. The wind this morning at 9 o'clock was blowing at the rate of 28 miles an hour, and the waters of the bay were covered with white caps. Indications show an increase of wind with the air cold, and fog or rain tonight.

With a large assortment of specimens and valuable information from the South Sea Island, the Carnegie, a power brig, arrived in port yesterday. She left here some months ago, and has been cruising in the South Seas ever since, and has some new knowledge for the Carnegie Institute of Natural Sciences. She will drydock at Oakland before starting on another cruise.

Captain Stangeland, master of the steamer Rainier, reports by wireless that they have passed a tree about sixty feet in length with the roots attached in latitude 47.30 north and 124.30 west, on February 18. This tree is supposed to be one of the many that was uprooted during the hurricane three weeks ago, along the Oregon and Washington coast.

William Ludwig, carpenter on board John D. Spreckels' yacht Venetia, died at the hospital in San Diego yesterday from appendicitis. He was 63 years old and was one of the crew of the Venetia, since the craft was purchased by Spreckels. Ludwig was well known in this city.

A fleet of seven steam schooners arrived at Oakland this morning from northern ports bringing a total of 2,531,000 feet of lumber. The work of unloading began at once, so as the vessels can get away for another cargo.

After being out of commission for several weeks, the Alaska cable is again working and news will be sent here as usual. The cable ship Burnside has been repairing breaks at Valdez and Sitka, and has sent in the report that the repairs are completed in that section.

While lying at her dock at Shanghai the U. S. Shipping Board steamer West Ison, was rammed by the British steamer Kentucky, and was badly damaged. Her cargo is being discharged and she will go to the drydock for repairs, was stated in a cablegram today.

Lumber shipments from Coos Bay have stopped for a while. There is not a single vessel in that port for cargo as the mills have gotten rid of all the lumber cut and it will be some days before there are any cargoes for the coasters. The Johanna and C. A. Smith, two of the largest lumber carriers from Coos Bay, are tied up in this harbor for some time. The Johanna Smith arrived here with 1,500,000 feet of lumber on December 27 and has not left since, while the C. A. Smith with a similar size cargo arrived here on February 7, and remains idle, the mills at Coos Bay will soon begin to operate and these two steamers will again start up. For many years Coos Bay has been one of the principal lumber ports on this coast and this is the first time in 15 years that this harbor has had no ocean-going vessels in port.

Note—In the above tabulation of tides, the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence commencing with the early morning tide in the left-hand column and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth occurring the following morning.

FIFTY APPLY FOR PUBLIC JOBS AND FIFTEEN QUALIFY

East Side Board of Trade Meets Success in Effort to Recruit Department.

As the result of an announcement made last week by the East Side Board of Trade that the board would consider applications for positions on the Oakland police department by endorsing and forwarding them to Commissioner [illegible] Morse for his consideration more than 50 men have applied 15 of whom have qualified in the eyes of the board for Oakland policemen They will be recommended to Commissioner Morse for appointment to fill existing vacancies in the department They are service men for the most part and men who have had experience in the line of work that they will follow

The effort of the Eastside Board of Trade to secure police timber was brought about following an announcement that men could not be found to fill all of the present vacancies

The present requirements make it necessary that an applicant be not under [illegible] years of age and not over [illegible] before he can become a member of the department

An amendment to the charter is now being prepared by City Attorney H L Hagan which would place the age requirements between [illegible] and [illegible] which it is pointed out would enable many young men to become patrolmen The charter also requires that an applicant must be a resident of the city five years

In view of Commissioner Morse's recent statement that ex service men make excellent policemen according to records on file in the department since the war the Board of Trade officials endeavored to secure as many ex service men as possible The American Legion has also furnished the department with a number of new patrolmen

AUTO LEFT IN DITCH WRECKED BY GAS BLAST

SAN FRANCISCO Feb 21 —When A M Beezer of 213 Carl street drove his automobile in the midst of a blinding rain and wind storm into an excavation at Frederick street and Parnassus avenue at a late hour last night he determined to postpone its rescue until morning In order to protect the machine from a possible collision he took a lantern which workmen had left as a warning to automobile drivers and hung it on the rear of his car Then he went home This morning only a charred mass was left, the street was ripped open from end to end, a convulsion had taken place

This is how it all happened

A sewer is being excavated on the street This was responsible for the machine going into the ditch During the night as the rain beat on the soft sand, a cave-in occurred and a water main was broken As the stream surged forth a gas main was shattered and the gas allowed to escape The lantern hanging on the rear of the automobile set fire to the gas There was an explosion the earth was thrown into the air and the street laid open for 100 feet The flames leaped high and an alarm was turned in The department had little difficulty in quenching the blaze by shutting off the flow of gas
